HEAT EXPLOSIONS in Granite City streets plagued the City Street Department this week in "a series of 'blowups' in street paving. Street Department workers are shown here clearing a 60 by 13-foot area of pavement in the 2400 block of St. Clair Avenue which swelled and broke Monday. Street Superintendent Lionel Portell said continued hot weather near the 100-degree mark caused the problems. Four such breaks have been repaired. Four others are awaiting resurfacing.

Seek aid for new city hall

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
A proposal to build a new city hall in Granite City, possibly with an adjoining jail and police station, was approved by the City Council Tuesday night.

By a unanimous vote, council members, with only one alderman absent, authorized Mayor Paul Schuler to proceed with the preparation of preliminary plans and an application for federal funds to help finance the project.

The federal funding will be sought under the new Public Works Employment Act which was approved a week ago under congressional action overriding President Ford's veto of the bill. That measure provides $3.55 billion for federal projects throughout the country, and a total of $58.5 million for Illinois projects.

The council acted on a motion by Alderman Clyde Boyd, chairman of the council's Street and Alley Committee, who said that Granite City should take "early advantage" of the funds which Illinois will receive under the act. Applications are to be

Damaging windstorm last night

A severe thunderstorm lashed with lightning and accompanied by high winds swept through the Quad-City area shortly after 6 p.m. Wednesday, toppling large trees and causing a number of fires where lightning hit homes, and power lines.

Drenching rains hit some parts of the area but the density of the rainfall was scattered. While some sections, particularly in the Pontoon Beach and Arlington Heights areas, reported heavy downpours, other sections reported normal shower activity.

At the Chain of Rocks locks, where the only official weather records are kept in this area, only 15 of an inch of rain was recorded.

The lightning and falling tree limbs which knocked down wires caused power outages in many parts of the area. Illinois Power Co. crews were called out shortly after the storm hit about 6:20 p.m. and were still working this morning.

Carl E. Mathias, service area manager of the power company, said he expected all service to be back to normal by noon today.

Mathias said that while reports from workmen still

Boy killed

A 7-year-old Granite City boy was injured fatally and five other persons were hurt, one critically, in a two-car collision at 8:35 p.m. Wednesday on State Aid Route 35 at the entrance to Holiday Mobile Home Park.

Michael Neal, 7, of 2226 Lee Ave., died at 9:30 p.m., nearly an hour after the accident, at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where all of the five other injured persons were admitted.

One of the injured, Michelle Neal, 8, sister of Michael, was reported in critical condition. She was transferred to Cardinal Glennon Hospital, St. Louis.

The other injured were: JoAnn Aurdand, 27, of 1422 Iowa St., driver of the car in which of the injured were passengers; Mrs. Rita Neal, 25, mother of Michael and Michelle; Heather Aurdand, 23 months, of the Iowa Street address, and Dax Aurdand, 4, also of the Iowa Street address, who was reported to have been thrown from the car.

Michael Neal, who celebrated his seventh birthday Sunday, suffered cuts about the face and head, multiple abrasions to the head and face and a head injury.

The Madison County Sheriff's office reported that the accident occurred when cars driven by Mrs. Aurdand and William H. Yapp of East St. Louis collided

Conventions this summer recall 1860

(61st of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)
With Jimmy Carter newly nominated by the Democratic Party and Republicans preparing to pick their Presidential standard-bearer for the 1976 election thoughts go back to the time when Illinois sent to the White House perhaps the greatest U.S. President of all.

At the 1860 Republican national convention in Chicago, Judge David Davis and a group of Abraham Lincoln's boosters dickered day and night to win delegate support for their fellow Illinoisan's Presidential candidacy.

In the midst of it all, they received an amazing telegram from Lincoln: "I authorize no bargains and will be bound by none."

Unwilling to admit that Lincoln understood the practical and immediate problems of winning the nomination, Davis grunted, "Lincoln ain't here," and continued to successfully push his candidate through the convention and into the Presidency itself.

Davis' political maneuvering and the "trail-splitting" image-making of others undoubtedly won votes, but they did not carry the day with either the Republican delegates or with the American people.

Instead, Lincoln rose from an impoverished New Salem frontiersman in 1831 to a Presidential nominee 29 years later by consciously perfecting

Create sewer division

A decision to establish a separate work division responsible for all sewer repairs, inspections and construction, but to keep the division within the Street Department, was reached by the Granite City Council Tuesday night.

The council's concurrence in a recommendation by Alderman Clyde Boyd, chairman of the Street and Alley Committee, that a special sewer work program be set up, followed a series of meetings between aldermanic committees and street and engineering department officials concerning a proposal that a separate Sewer Department be established.

Boyd told the council that his recommendation included the addition of five men to the city's present sewer work program, the acquisition of a backhoe by rental and the purchase of six dewatering pumps. No immediate estimate of the cost involved in these recommendations was given.

According to Boyd, the aldermen of several council committees met on July 19 and again Monday night with street department and engineering officials to discuss a proposal that a separate Sewer Department be established because of the mounting program of sewer rehabilitation and repair work now being done by the Street Department.

The suggestion was made by Seventh Ward Alderman Ronald Coleman a month ago when he noted that the Street Department program of sewer rehabilitation has grown extensively since the city instituted a regular schedule of televising and grouting work on faulty sewer lines in the Nameoki area.

The city two weeks ago purchased a second television camera and grouting machine to step up the pace of the Nameoki area sewer work, and prior to that made budget provisions to acquire three additional men for the televising and grouting program.

The question arose as to whether a special sewer division should be established as a department of its own, outside the street department, or whether the work should remain within the supervision of the street department.

Boyd told the council Tuesday night:

"We gave this matter extensive consideration, but we feel that this work (sewer)

Meetings on flood plain management

The initial draft of a flood insurance study of Granite City under which rates for flood insurance will be established and requirements outlined for enactment of flood plain management programs was received Tuesday by Mayor Paul Schuler.

The study, prepared by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Federal Insurance Administration, was described by Mayor Schuler as being of "serious nature" since the amount of insurance available and rates will be determined by results of the study.

A similar draft has been received by Venice city officials.

Because the study is expected to have a substantial impact on residents of the communities, a public hearing is scheduled in the Granite City council chambers in the City Hall at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 4, and in the Venice City Hall at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 5.

Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison said he had not received any information concerning the study Wednesday. Madison, like Granite City and Venice, is a participant in the national flood insurance program.

William C. Fick, director of the regional Flood Insurance Office of HUD, told local officials that "Final acceptance of this Flood Insurance Study will mark your entrance into the 'regular' phase of the program, at which time the amount of insurance coverage available will be doubled and insurance rates will reflect actuarial rates."

In addition, he said, the communities "will be required to adopt flood plain management regulations commensurate with the technical information contained in the study."

He said that Romulus Dorsey, flood insurance specialist of the HUD regional office, a representative of the Illinois Division of Water Resources and a representative of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers which prepared the study, will attend the public hearings to answer questions concerning the study and its effects upon residents of the area.

Fick also urged that city officials make every effort to notify representatives of civic organizations, individual property owners and insurance agents, realtors and representatives of financial institutions of the importance of the hearings and urge them to be present.

Copies of the study received by Mayor Schuler and in Venice were accompanied by flood plain maps showing areas that would be inundated by a 100-year flood, flood elevation profiles and flood insurance rates for the use of financial institutions and insurance agents in determining who must purchase flood insurance and the cost of the insurance.

Final issuance of the study will mark a change in the status of the areas in the federal flood insurance program from the SKETCH AND PHOTOGRAPH (of a non-suspect, W. F. Strange of the Press-Record staff) illustrate one of the identification procedures used by Granite City police. While a person's memory of another individual is not exact, it often is sufficiently close to enable the wanted party to be located.

Identification valuable tool to cut crime

How to assure that crime is kept to the absolute minimum? Witnesses' memory of facial details is becoming an increasingly useful tool in the law enforcement and investigative field.

The importance of noting a suspect's appearance was stressed in a talk at Tuesday's Granite City Rotary luncheon by Detective Donald Knight of the Granite City police department.

He showed how an identification kit is utilized to create the approximate image of an individual wanted for questioning.

The kit adapts to show any of 600,000 faces.

Techniques by which officers avoid "helping" a witness were noted. Knight emphasized that the description must be by the witness, rather than from subtle suggestions by police while the witness is describing.

SISTER MARY THOMAS

Ailments treated but smiles contagious at GC Hospital; president sets the example

By JACKIE ADAMS
She is small and frail-looking with dark circles under her eyes. The hairline that peeks out of her veil is tinged with gray. When she smiles, it is a strong smile filled with warmth and good humor.

Sister Mary Thomas, administrator of St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City, is no frail spirit. She is the leading force behind the growth of a modern metropolitan hospital over the past 14 years.

Sister Thomas is of the order of Sisters of Divine Providence, which has 96 nuns in the St. Louis area. The sisters are celebrating their American centennial this year.

"I always wanted to be a sister," says Sister Thomas. "When I was a little girl, our teacher (a nun) asked us to raise our hands if we wanted to be a nun. She didn't see me or ignore me, and I never told anyone else about it again until high school."

"My health wasn't good and my parents didn't want me to enter the convent right away. But I was so stubborn that I did right after high school, anyway. I often wonder what I would have done if they'd agreed readily," she says with a reflective smile.

Many nuns are former teachers who channel themselves into other careers. While the field for women hospital administrators is not large, for nuns it has grown by leaps and bounds. Do nuns and lay people work well together? They seem to do extremely well at St. Elizabeth.

Over 1,000 persons work at the hospital, and yet Sister Thomas has made it a policy to call them "associates" rather than "employees."

Sister Thomas grins when she says it's easy to get along with nuns. One doesn't ever have to know their names, but just yell out "Hi, Sister," to get several replies, she says.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long white dotted swiss gown fashioned with a scoop neckline edged in lace and short butterfly sleeves bordered in matching lace trim.

The flared skirt fell softly from the high rise waistline into a chapel train.

A lace cap held her shoulder length veil of bridal illusion and she carried a bouquet of paphaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy festooned with white streamers.

A sister of the bride, Miss Sue E. Forrer, served as maid of honor with bridesmaids, Mrs. Fred Holdsworth, Mrs. Brian Dyke, Miss Lani J. Chichester and Miss Janet Wilson, the groom's sister.

They selected full length yellow organza dresses designed similar to the bridal gown. Each held a bouquet of yellow and white daisies and ivy.

The groom chose Gary Macaluso as his best man.

National recreation area plan called aid to tourism

Congressman Paul Simon, D-24th Dist., who wants the U. S. Forest Service to consider Shawnee Hills in Southern Illinois as a possible national recreation area, believes his proposal could mean millions of dollars for the tourism and recreation industries in Saline, Pope, Gallatin and Hardin Counties.

His bill calls for a two-year study by the Forest Service to determine the "desirability and feasibility" of creating a major federal facility from the scenic Garden of the Gods and other parts of Shawnee National Forest.

The proposed Shawnee Hills National Recreation Area would be one of only two dozen sites in the United States with the recreation designation.

The former local state legislator said national recreation areas are more elaborate than most state parks and are similar to national parks in their goal of preserving and protecting valuable resources.

The major emphasis, however, is "on serving recreation needs."

Simon said in announcing his proposal that he is "not advocating any government land grab to create this park."

"Much of the area we have mapped for study is already owned by the federal government," he pointed out.

Simon said the purpose of the proposed study is to give local-level governments, individual land owners and others an opportunity to comment on a recreation area project "which I believe could mean millions of dollars for the tourism and recreation industries of Southern Illinois."

"I will pursue the project only if the plan that comes from the two-year study is supported by those directly affected in the four-county area," Simon added.

The 172,000-acre site he proposes for study includes part of southwestern Gallatin County, southeastern Saline County, northwestern Hardin County and northern Pope County.

The area includes, in addition to the Garden of the Gods, the Glen Jones Conservation Area, the Lake Glendale Recreational Area, the Pounds Hollow Recreation Area and the Lusk Creek Botanical and Geological Area.

Comparable national recreation areas in the U. S. are Spruce Knob-Seneca Rocks National Recreation Area in West Virginia, Sawtooth National Recreation Area in Idaho, and Shasta-Trinity National Recreation Area in California.

"This isn't a complete proposal we're trying to force upon the four counties," Simon emphasized.

"We're still in the initial planning stages. I think we can draw up a recreation area that will substantially increase our area tourism without reducing the local tax base—and without infringing on the rights of property owners who don't want to sell their land."

He said "recreation" would include a variety of activities—from enjoying the scenery and hunting, fishing, camping, swimming and hiking to anything else authorized in federal action creating such an area.

Steel orders numerous; National Steel earnings up

National Steel Corporation earned $27,667,568, or $1.47 per share, during the second quarter ended June 30, Chairman George A. Stinson announced Monday evening. The firm owns Granite City Steel.

These earnings, on sales totaling $754,770,282, were more than double those of the comparable 1975 quarter, when the steel industry was nearing the bottom of its most severe slump in more than a decade.

For the first half of 1976, National Steel earned $41,220,927, or $2.19 per share, compared with $36,024,067, or $1.93 per share, in 1975's first six months.

"Second-quarter profit performance is an encouraging start back toward the profitability level of 1974," Stinson said. "However, it is no more than that."

"It will be necessary for us to improve our profitability if we are to generate the capital funds we will require to carry out the expansion program we have planned."

Sales for the first six months of 1976 totaled $1,441,993,142, exceeding those of the comparable 1975 period by 29 per cent.

Production and shipments also were up strongly. In the second 1976 quarter, primary steel production aggregated 2,792,900 tons and shipments were 2,181,500 tons. Respectively, these were 31 per cent and 57 per cent greater than in the second quarter of 1975.

For the first half of 1976, production amounted to 5,329,400 tons and shipments 4,190,400 tons, which were 16 per cent and 33 per cent, respectively, greater than during the first six months of 1975.

"These totals show clearly the distinct turnaround in the primary markets we serve during the course of one year," Stinson said.

"Additionally, we continue to benefit from cost-reduction programs which were intensified during the 1975 market slump."

"For the current quarter, we anticipate continued good business."

The expansion program referred to by Chairman Stinson includes major new facilities at Midwest Steel, Portage, Ind.

National Steel and other major steel manufacturers are convinced that demand for steel will grow substantially in future years.

On July 14, the firm filed a registration statement for a 30-year first mortgage bond issue totaling $150 million. The money will provide working capital and also help meet future capital spending requirements. National Steel has indicated it is indefinitely deferring construction of a hot rolling mill at Portage, reducing the cost of the current Portage proposal from $1 billion to $700 million.

At Granite City Steel, a spokesman said the increase in orders for steel has been dramatic. High production levels are expected to continue at least through the third quarter of 1976.

He added, "Although steel prices still haven't gone up as much as steelmaking costs, the higher volume of operations makes for better efficiency, enabling the profit picture to improve."

"Times like these test the ingenuity of the maintenance forces as they try to keep every piece of equipment in operating condition. And they are times that challenge the operating people to turn out top-quality steel that can be sold for top dollar."

The basic oxygen furnace department at Granite City Steel and the galvanizing lines set production records in June.

National Steel's consolidated income summary released Monday evening in Pittsburgh showed corporate-wide April-June 1976 production of 2,792,900 tons, compared to 2,129,500 in the second quarter of 1975, and 2,181,500 tons shipped, compared to 1,389,200.

The income of $27,667,568 or

$1.47 a share (18,946,285 shares) compared to $1.16, 493 or 65 cents a share. Second-Quarter sales and operating revenue of

$754,770,282 compared to $511,258,127 in the same period a year ago. January-June 1976 statistics include 5,329,400 production, compared to 4,611,300; 4,190,400 shipments, compared to 3,140,800; $41,220,927 net income or $2.19 a share, compared to $1.93, 054,067 or $1.93; and $1,441,993,142 sales, compared to $1,115,607,210 in the first half of 1975.

CERTIFICATE OF APPRECIATION is presented to Mayor Paul Schulz for his support of the Cub Scout Day Camp program from July 12 through July 23. From left, Mrs. Rose Lawrence, co-chairman of the program; Mrs. Ida Nuernberger, chairman of swimming events at Tower Lake on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville; Mrs. Diana Dillon, chairman of events held at Cahokia Mounds State Park;

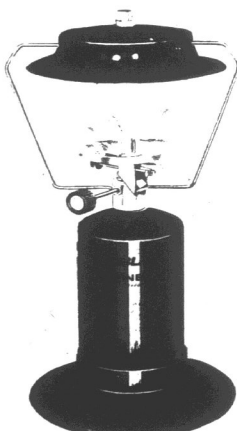

Mayor Schulz, Mrs. Pat Foote, co-chairman of the program; Mrs. Pauline Perkins, chairman of Camp Sunnen events, and Mrs. Judy Hargrove, chairman of activities in Wilson Park. The presentation was made at a luncheon Monday afternoon at which activities of the Day Camp program were reviewed and discussed. Unable to attend the luncheon were representatives of Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach who also were thanked for their support.

certain critical and compelling characteristics. He mastered and understood politics as a way of accomplishing things for the greatest numbers of people. He recognized and represented the importance of the rule of law in society. And he demonstrated a faith in the right-mindedness of the people, of their power to comprehend when the facts were presented simply and honestly. Lincoln's desire for self-advancement led to the famous observation that "his ambition was a little engine that knew no rest." He readily admitted to a "peculiar ambition" during his first, unsuccessful campaign for the Illinois legislature in 1832 when he said, "I have no other (ambition) so great as that of being truly esteemed of my fellow men, by rendering myself worthy of their esteem." Thus driven, Lincoln became increasingly estimable as his pre-Presidential career progressed through three stages of effectiveness and comprehension of politics, of the rule of law, and of eloquence. Between 1834 and 1842 he served four terms as a Whig in the Illinois legislature. His frontier constituents tended to be self-made men like himself, and he represented them well in matters of internal improvements, banking, and issues of local concern. He was still a man of expediency and somewhat limited vision. That he mastered the techniques of politics, appeal, persuasion, compromise and maneuver, however, was particularly clear by his role in moving the state capital from Vandalia to Springfield. By becoming a lawyer in 1836, Lincoln responded to the frontier lesson that taking the law into one's own hands, of being totally occupied with present and future rather than with the past, was hazardous. He formed a partnership from 1837 to 1841 with John T. Stuart, a popular Whig leader. His profession and his partner gave him recognition and prestige as well as a way to express a basic undeveloped concern for the rule of law. In an address in 1838, Lincoln told a lecture audience, "Let reverence of the law be breathed by every American mother... let it be written in primers, spelling books... preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in legislative halls... let it become the political religion of the nation." His language often had a direct but rough and occasionally crude and personal quality to it. The three critical characteristics took shape, but they remained parochial as well as separate and unfocused within him. A second stage of development began in 1842 and lasted until 1854. During these years, Lincoln's political and representational interests broadened to the state level and beyond. His hope for a Congressional seat was realized between 1846 and 48, and he took a legalistic but unpopular and courageous stand against the Mexican War. Lincoln became an effective statewide political organizer, continued to be an eloquent spokesman for internal improvement, and began to ponder the slavery issue. In the spring of 1841, he had formed a law partnership with Stephen T. Logan from whom he learned precision, discipline, thoroughness—the importance of marshaling facts—to his arguments. He realized an income from his legal career equivalent to the salary of the governor. Throughout these middle years, Lincoln was dissatisfied with the level of forcefulness and clarity of language demanding by politics and the law and continued to strive for clarity in the use of words, to strip any issue to its essentials so that all could comprehend. Signs of the classical traits coming together in a powerful personality appeared frequently. The third period of growth began in 1854 when Lincoln's legal, moral and political senses were awakened by Stephen A. Douglas' attempt to repeal the Missouri Compromise and to open the territories to the possibility of slavery. His legal talents matured; he was the senior partner in the Lincoln-Herndon law office, and it was natural for the two principals to refer to one another as "Mr. Lincoln" and "Billy."

This time, a national issue caused him to re-enter politics. He demonstrated a practical political ability in helping to establish and to promote the Republican Party, and displayed analytical and oratorical powers of statesmanlike proportion. The Lincoln-Douglas debates won him national attention. His Cooper Union speech in New York proved that his appeal extended well beyond the state of Illinois. The events which surrounded the slavery issue, violence triggered by both sides, presented an unparalleled need to plead the importance of the rule of law. Not only did he appeal to the interests of the free laborers of the North and the West as well as the consciences and the legal sense of most persons who lived above the Mason-Dixon line, but he did so with surpassing eloquence. Although he much preferred Douglas to Lincoln, Edgar Lee Masters later admitted Lincoln's mastery when he wrote, "Lincoln was poet, and Douglas was not. And though people pay no attention to poetry they give it silent tribute and loud, too, by preferring Lincoln to Douglas."

The impending Civil War presented an unprecedented challenge which demanded

Fourth annual 'Glenfest'

The fourth annual Glenfest, Glen Carbon's homecoming celebration, will be held on Main Street, beginning at 5 p.m. on Friday and at noon on Saturday. Proceeds of the event will be used toward the purchase of an entryway to Miner Park. Street dancing will be held from 7 p.m. to the music of Rod Brown and the Country Styles, and the Country Playboys. In addition to carnival rides a "dunking machine," cakewalk, bake sale and craft stands.

Former GC man faces charges after chase

Edward J. Crowell Jr., 17, Carmi, formerly of Granite City, was charged in Washington Park with speeding, reckless driving, resisting arrest and unlawful use of a driver's permit after a car he was driving allegedly chased at speeds up to 100 miles-per-hour from Route 111 to Caseyville at 5:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Officers said they chased the car to a field in Caseyville where the driver allegedly got out of the car and started running, but was caught by an officer. The owner of the car, which had been taken from Carmi, claimed the vehicle in Washington Park Wednesday.

The driver and a passenger in Edwards' auto were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where Craig was treated for pain to his abdomen and the right side of his back and abrasions to both arms. Edwards was treated for a small bruise to his forehead and pain to his left shoulder. The passenger, Irene Edwards, 50, also of Rock Bridge, suffered pain over her left eye and an abrasion to a leg. Request rezoning for new warehouse

The Granite City Council was requested Tuesday night to rezone 3.42 acres of land near Emzue Avenue and Route 151 in West Granite City for possible construction of a warehouse for Gebco Machine Shop, 1307 Twenty-first St.

Attorney Leon Scroggins, representing Morris Investment Co., broker for the land sale, requested the council consider rezoning the property adjoining the Charles Todd industrial cleaning building at 2929 Emzue Ave., from R-8 multiple family residential, to M-1 manufacturing.

Tentative plans are for Gebco to construct a new warehouse and move its operations there from its present downtown building. A spokesman for the Gebco firm explained the plans are tentative and still being prepared. The company does machine shop work for about 20 to 25 customers in the Granite City and Alton areas, mostly small industrial firms, but the clients also include Granite City Steel. "It is important we remain in this area to best serve our customers here," the spokesman said.

Gebco employs 12 people. The council voted to refer the rezoning request to the city Planning Commission for study and a recommendation.

A short-circuit in an electrical fuse box at 3:10 p.m. Monday is believed by authorities to have caused a fire in the office of Dr. Walter Heidke in Crossroad Plaza Shopping Center. Firemen were there 30 minutes. Damage was estimated at $500.

State trails in federal aid—Howlett

With aggressive state leadership, Illinois can obtain its proper share of federal funds for economic development, Michael J. Howlett, the Democratic candidate for governor, said Monday evening. Howlett spoke at a picnic on grounds of the Southwestern Illinois Co., organized to promote understanding of a new coal gasification plant to be built with federal assistance near Culler.

"Illinois presently ranks 50th among the states in federal assistance and grants," said Howlett. "Your efforts on this project indicate that, with good leadership, Illinois can return to its proper level."

The $20 million in federal money you will receive in Phase One of this project is much needed in Illinois, just as the 4,000 jobs to be provided on the eventual commercial plant on this site are badly needed."

The plant is intended to turn Illinois coal into gas for sale all over Illinois, with crude oil as a byproduct. Howlett credited Southwestern and the Illinois Coal Gasification Group for contributing to the development.

Other members of the group include the Northern Illinois Gas Co.; Peoples Gas, Light & Coke; Central Illinois Public Service Co.; Central Illinois Light Co. and Northshore Gas Co.

As governor, Howlett said, he would cut "red tape" and expedite construction of the new plant.

"You can count on fair and fast application of the law from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, from Mines and Minerals and from the Department of Transportation in my administration," he said.

"The project will stimulate accelerated coal research and new research, institutions in Perry County and southern Illinois. This will help keep some of our Illinois-trained scientists and engineers at home."

Quad-City tax bills in mail

Richard Peck, tax collector of Nameoki Township, announced Monday night that he has sent all tax bills out to township residents and will begin collection Monday at Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, 1809 Edison Ave. Taxes also may be mailed to his office at 2011 Sixth St., Madison.

Peck noted at the Nameoki Township Board of Auditors meeting Monday night that he believes there are a great many errors in the addresses of the tax bills sent out, since they were addressed by the Madison County Treasurer's Office, using the county's computer.

Nameoki Township residents who have not received their tax bills in the mail by early next week may call Peck's office at 877-2771.

Collections at the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank will continue from Monday through Wednesday, Sept. 1. Beginning Sept. 2 a late charge will be assessed, so it is important that residents not receiving their tax bills in the mail contact his office in time to rectify the error before the deadline, he said.

Collections also will begin Monday for Chouteau and Venice Townships. Venice Township Collector Jerry Maerz said bills may be paid by mail or in person at the town collector's office at 422 Madison Ave., Madison.

In Chouteau Township, Collector Charles Lexow has arranged a series of tax payment dates in various parts of the township. Taxes also may be paid at Lexow's office, 720 Old Alton Road.

Special payment dates include: Aug. 6 and Aug. 30 at the Mitchell Water District office; Aug. 3 and Aug. 17 at the South Roxana Village Hall; Aug. 5 and Aug. 19 at the Hartford Village Hall.

Granite City Township collections begin Monday, July 26, with tax payments being accepted during regular banking hours at all banks in Granite City.

All of the collectors have set Sept. 1 as the deadline for the payment of taxes. Beginning Sept. 2, a penalty of one per cent per month on unpaid bills becomes effective.

Ricco II court appeal by city

Granite City's legal department has been instructed to prepare an appeal to the Circuit Court of a ruling by the Illinois State Liquor Control Commission which modified an order by Mayor Paul Schuler revoking the liquor license of Ricco's II Lounge, the City Council was informed Tuesday night. The liquor commission earlier this month reduced the revocation order by Mayor Schuler to a 30-day suspension of the liquor license. Thomas Murphy, chairman of the liquor commission, left it up to Mayor Schuler to determine when the suspension would become effective.

The city, however, filed an application for a rehearing of the case before the state body. Schuler told the council that he received word Tuesday that the application for a rehearing had been rejected by the commission.

The city attorney's office will begin preparation of an appeal of the commission ruling to the Circuit Court, a procedure set by state law.

Mayor Schuler ordered permanent revocation of the Ricco's II license after lengthy hearings on evidence of disturbances in and near the lounge, including a fatal shooting and a stabbing on the parking lot near the lounge Dec. 8, 1975.

rehabilitation) has been going well under the supervision of the Street Department, and that future work should remain within that department but conducted by a separate crew.

"To do this we will need five additional men, a backhoe and six dewatering pumps. We believe that the backhoe could be rented and that the additional men could be hired through the labor union so that they would not be on a permanent payroll during periods when work cannot be done on sewers because of the weather."

The first step toward a long-range sewer repair and rehabilitation program will be to lay out the work that needs to be done, the alderman noted. Boyd said that it also was decided that Assistant Street Superintendent James Stacks will supervise all televising and gouting work, with Street Superintendent Lionel Fortell responsible for the overall sewer program.

Alderman Frank Greenwald noted during the discussion that the city's new 1976-77 budget provided for three additional men to work on sewer projects. He asked Boyd if the reference to five additional men meant that the city would hire two more men.

Boyd replied that his recommendation was for five men in addition to those provided in the budget, for a total of eight.

Whitmer said he favored the proposal as recommended by Boyd and the street committee since it provided for hiring men as needed rather than having them on a permanent payroll. Whitmer in earlier discussions of the new Sewer Department proposal objected to any plan of establishing a full-time crew that "would be sitting around when the weather prevented them from working."

Alderman Frank Greenwald said that the city should press its sewer rehabilitation program as rapidly as possible.

"If we don't do anything and just remain dormant, we'll never get anywhere in repairing the sewer breaks. We need to take the bull by the horns and do the work ourselves. We can save money and still get the sewers in good shape," he said.

PONTOON BEACH AREA was among those hit hard Wednesday evening by a thunderstorm and windstorm. Trees, wires, trash containers and a variety of heavy objects were moved about and damaged.

filed within 60 days of the passage date of the measure.

"I am sure we can get a set of preliminary plans together in time to file an application for funding under this bill if we act immediately," Boyd said.

To avoid time delays which would result from council action on each phase of the project on a week-to-week basis, Boyd moved that Mayor Schuler be given the authority to follow through with all steps required in getting an application to the federal government as soon as possible.

"I think expediency is the main point here," Boyd noted, adding that "I imagine our friends to the north of us (Chicago) already have their plans and applications ready for filing."

Boyd referred primarily to the building of a new city hall and Alderman Everett Morlen, chairman of the Police Committee, and a long-time proponent of a plan to build a new police station and jail, said he believed that construction of a new jail should take precedence over a city hall project because of conditions at the police station where "they don't have any room for prisoners or in which to work."

Some aldermen suggested the possibility of combining a city hall and jail project in the one application for federal funding, but the final determination of the grant application in this respect was left up to Mayor Schuler.

Following the meeting, the mayor told the Press-Record yesterday that he had talked with Gene Ramsey of the Economic Development Division of the U.S. Department of Commerce at Springfield, and was told that all rules, regulations and application forms necessary to grant application should be available to the city by Aug. 23.

Schuler added that Ramsey told him that approval of grant applications should be made early next year, possibly in February or March.

The mayor said it is his understanding at this time that federal funds will be available through the state in three different categories, including the possibility of 100 per cent funding of certain public works projects. The other two categories list "supplemental aid," primarily for projects already planned but for which insufficient money is available, and to finance state or local shares for projects already planned.

Since the $3.95 million in funds was authorized only a week ago, "We still have much to learn about procedure," the mayor said. The rules and regulations which are to be made available within the next 30 days "will enable us to determine what we have to do," he added.

The mayor told the Press-Record that the planning for such a project may give the city "a new way to go" in development of the proposed construction of a township office building on the site of the old Central Junior High School on Delmar Avenue.

The city has two possible sites on which to build a city hall, he said. One of these is the property adjoining the main fire station at 23rd Street and a Madison Avenue.

The other is the Central Junior High School site which could be made available in cooperation with Granite City Township. He noted that construction of the proposed township building and senior citizens center has been held up because financing with federal revenue sharing funds is not yet sufficient.

"I am certain we could work out something with the township to utilize the town office site by planning one larger structure that would combine the planning of both the city and the township," Schuler said.

Schuler noted that under original arrangements for building the township building, it was intended that the facility would be turned over to the city when and if township government is eliminated, as it is expected to be within the next few years.

Chouteau town board ok's building plans

The Chouteau Township Board and the Madison County Community Development office have approved final drawings submitted Monday night by architect John Rapp outlining actual construction specifications for a proposed $95,000 town hall and community center building.

The board and township Community Development Committee will meet at 7 p.m. Monday to authorize advertising for bids on the project. The township has committed all of its federal revenue sharing funds and its Community Development funds to township buildings. A township garage already has been completed with revenue sharing funds and the combined town hall and community center building hopefully will be constructed sometime this year.

The majority of the new building would be devoted to a large hall for community gatherings and activities while a small portion would be used for town hall offices. It is to be constructed near the present highway garage behind the Midwest Motel.

The township's Bicentennial Committee has conducted fund-raising activities to help equip and furnish the building. Betty Lavelle is treasurer of the committee.

were coming in at 9:30 a.m. today some of the major areas that lost power included about 200 homes in the Glenview area, without power for three to four hours; in the Alexander and Lorraine areas near Route 162, about 50 homes without power for three to four hours; in the Benton Avenue and 26th Street homes without power for four to five hours; Poston Beach, area near Route 162 and 111, at least 75 homes without power six to seven hours.

According to Mathias restoring power took longer than it normally would have because of high groundwaters. Also, during heavy rains combined storm and sanitary sewers in the central portion of the city cause overloading on the treatment plant and untreated sewage is discharged directly into the Chain of Rocks Gorge.

Planning done under the grant will meet Step One requirements of a three-step process required by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

"The pattern of the storm according to our records so far seem to indicate that electrical problems seemed to be reported at Nidringhaus Avenue and the Army Installation and travel northeast across town for an area about four blocks wide," Mathias said.

"There was very little damage in Venice or Madison," Mathias said.

There were 10 storm-related incidents reported to police or fire departments between 6:30 p.m. and 8:45 p.m. yesterday.

At 6:30 p.m., lightning struck the home of Claude Harris, 2012 Cottage Ave. damage to the house wiring and causing a wall receptacle to catch on fire. The fire was out when firemen arrived and there was only a minor damage, firemen said.

At 6:40 p.m., lightning struck a utility pole at Wabash and Cottage avenues, which started to burn, but the fire went out before firemen arrived.

A power line knocked down by a lightning bolt was only at 2901 Iowa St., at 6:52 p.m., and another power line was reported down at Wilson and National avenues at 7:20 p.m.

High winds were believed to have been responsible for a balcony railing being set off at Ebrech's Market, 2448 Grand Ave., at 7:28 p.m., and at 7:40 p.m., the wind broke the front window at the Singlet, 1337 Johnson Road. She was released on bond at 2:50 a.m. Tuesday.

A one-year-old girl alleged her car nearly struck them in the parking lot. When officers talked to her, she allegedly told them she was a Granite City police officer and was trying to help other officers against young people who had gathered there.

A policeman said he was ordered to get off her car; the woman was then released, and the vehicle drove toward the rear of the restaurant area.

A second patrol car was dispatched to the area where the car was stopped in the lot. It was alleged she named several political figures and threatened to have police officers arrested.

She told the Press-Record it was not until later that she learned that she had been arrested and that the youngsters were present due to a traffic accident. She said she feared that a riot might be about to start and that the officers might be in danger.

She related backing her car, blowing the horn and turning lights on and off in an effort to divert the gathering from proceeding with possible injurious actions toward officers.

She added that she became further upset when there was verbal abuse toward her by young people at the lot.

Later conversation with officers was complicated by the fact that raincoats hid their uniforms, she related. She said no charge was filed until when taken to the police station, she complained about not being allowed to make a telephone call.

The third call was to Jones Park where the storm blew down a utility pole and the power lines fell.

A tree reportedly struck and damaged the roof and gutters of the home of Mary Ann Jeffers, 2629 Central St.

During the height of the storm, the wind broke a wooden construction platform around the home of the late Mrs. A. J. Rutherford said.

Gateway approves GC sewer funds, bus grant

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer announced that the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council yesterday endorsed a sanitary sewer reconstruction planning grant application for $343,300 in Granite City.

Hagauer, chairman of the council, explained that the city's present system is plagued with severe problems because of high groundwaters. Also, during heavy rains combined storm and sanitary sewers in the central portion of the city cause overloading on the treatment plant and untreated sewage is discharged directly into the Chain of Rocks Gorge.

Planning done under the grant will meet Step One requirements of a three-step process required by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The grant application will be forwarded to appropriate state and federal agencies for their action.

The Gateway Council Wednesday also endorsed an application by the Bi-State Development Agency for over $21 million to expand and improve mass transit service in the bi-state area.

The agency proposes use of U.S. Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) funds to implement first-year improvements as part of a five-year Transportation Improvement Program recently approved by the Gateway Council.

Proposed improvements include:

apartment of Wilfred Campbell, 3106 Maryville Road.

Firemen were on the scene three and a half hours, after which numerous residents of the apartment helped the fire victims carry furniture and belongings out of the apartment.

Damage was estimated at $25,000 to the building and $10,000 to the contents.

Both apartments owned by Hilman said he was unable to determine the cause of the fire. The fire started in the kitchen, and the flames had gone up a wall to the roof.

Of nine scheduled meetings so far this year, the Bi-State Development Agency board, four have been cancelled because of bad weather, including a session Tuesday.

Of the five meetings held, three lacked attendance by Roger Plummer, Board Chairman, and John Shuff Jr., Bellevue publisher. Shuff cited illness and business trips and said he will be more present at the Bi-State Development Agency board.

Discrimination by Operating Engineers Local 520 alleged

The Mitchell office of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 520, was picketed by about 25 black union members Tuesday who said the union has been discriminating against blacks.

The men, who formed the Black Concerned Operations of Local 520, contend the union is not living up to an agreement calling for 20 per cent of the workers when highway construction jobs in Madison and St. Clair counties to be of minority groups.

A hearing was conducted by the Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission Tuesday in East St. Louis on the allegation, but results of that hearing had not been announced this morning. Union officials said they had no comment on the outcome of that hearing.

The Black Concerned Operations group also has filed a suit in federal court in East St. Louis, naming the union and other parties as discriminating against blacks.

Union officials, who would not comment on the issue this morning, have been quoted as saying there is no work available and they have been attempting to live up to the 20 per cent agreement.

The blacks contend, however, that only about 15 of 94 black members in the union are working while many white members are working overtime until 9 or 10 p.m. each night on highway jobs.

A spokesman for the black union members' group said many members are angry because they are paid a false in union dues and many have not worked at all or have worked only a few hours in years.

Two in truck

burglarize apartment

A man and a woman in a shiny late-model white pickup truck with a camper in the back, were connected to a burglary last night at the apartment of Linda Beane, 2103A Amos Ave., which was reported at 10:30 p.m.

Other residents of the apartment building reported seeing a man carrying a clothes hamper full of items from the apartment and into the truck, which had been backed up to the apartment door.

The man made at least two trips while a woman held the apartment building door open for him. When the man noticed a resident of the building watching, he threw something rectangular into the camper, closed the camper door and the woman got into the truck and left the scene.

The witnesses reported the truck had the words "Spirit of '76" on the side. It drove on Amos Avenue toward Wabash Avenue and then turned left on Wabash.

Police found the rear door of Mrs. Beane's apartment had been twisted off with pliers. The pliers and a screwdriver were found on a table near the door.

Park board to study request for easement

A request last night by Madison County Sewer Project Attorney Larry Calvo and Engineer Ed Jansone placed to the Granite City Park Board for a 20-foot easement at Worthen Avenue.

The request was a request for a 20-foot easement at Worthen Avenue. The request was a request for a 20-foot easement at Worthen Avenue.

It was noted that a master deed for the Park Board does not provide for such an easement and major changes of the plan would be necessary to grant the request.

The Park Board, in other action, approved closing the Wilson Park swimming pool for the season on Sunday, Aug. 29.

A recess of the meeting until 10 a.m. Saturday at the Wilson Park Office was agreed upon.

$2,000 FIRE DAMAGE

A fire in the garage at the home of Stacie Clark, 3221 Westchester Drive, during the weekend, caused $2,000 damage to the structure and its contents.

Firemen were at the scene 30 minutes, and said they believe a smoldering trash fire in a corner of the garage spread to a door and overhead eaves.

HOME BURGLARIZED

Police found no signs of forced entry at the home of Donna Weakley, 2704 Kirkwood, where burglars removed a portable television set, assorted jewelry, an eight-track tape player valued at $50, a tape valued at $100, and about $100 in change. The break-in was reported at 1 a.m. Wednesday.

Keith Charter, 2921 Edgewood Ave. was injured when his car and the auto of Robin May, 4336 Namek Road, collided on Maryville Road south of Orville Avenue at 7:05 p.m. Monday. Charter went to St. Elizabeth Hospital, but left before being examined.

CHECK RAPE REPORT

Police are investigating the report of a 14-year-old girl who said she was raped while attending a party on Iowa Street Thursday. She was examined at St. Elizabeth Hospital and released. Officers are seeking a youth for questioning.

WOMAN CUT BY KNIFE

Miss Velma Banks, 38, of 79 Gerseche Homes, Madison, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital Monday for a knife cut to her left shoulder. She was released after treatment.

Record speed forecast for Gateway Nationals

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer
Vern Anderson, driver of the American Dream rocket-powered dragster, predicted yesterday that he will go faster than any man has ever gone before at St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison during the Gateway Nationals of Drag Racing. The event opens tomorrow and continues through the championships Sunday.

Anderson, already the holder of eight land speed records, predicted he will shatter his own American Hot Rod Association quarter-mile record of 315.73 miles per hour. It was set at the drag strip here this year during the Spring Nationals.

Making the run more difficult will be the psychological interference of another rocket-powered dragster running beside him, Conklin's Comet, which also has surpassed the 300 mph barrier this year.

Ed Ballinger, driver of the Conklin rocket, also said he will try to break Anderson's mark this weekend.

The rockets will compete each day of the three-day race. Anderson, whose records also include the Bonneville Salt flats record, explained that his rocket is slightly larger than the one in the Conklin vehicle and consumes about 19 gallons of nearly pure hydrogen peroxide in less than five seconds.

The burning gas expands to about six times its original volume at 1,800 degrees and is then squeezed through a narrow opening, resulting in about 5,000 pounds of thrust.

The rocket in the car alone is a $7,000 investment, with many of the parts made from government surplus parts, including some developed for lunar landers.

"The car scares me," Anderson said, adding, "That is a good thing. It's when you lose that respect for the power of the car and the danger involved that you get into trouble."

"It's like a loaded gun. When you get over being afraid of it, that is when it shoots you."

Asked what he fears most about driving the rocket, Anderson answered calmly, "Wind." He recalled that at Bonneville his racer was caught by a gust of wind at more than 400 miles an hour and turned sideways. "Fortunately, the rear wheel hit a little mound of salt which I saw spray up, and the car turned straight."

"This rocket is very light and sensitive to wind and when it gets sideways, there is nothing I can do but just ride with it. I am more careful about the wind than some other drivers. That's what killed the first three rocket drivers in this country," Anderson commented.

The rockets will be only a part of the drag racing program, which will feature a full variety of racing and exhibitions. Another of the entries, "Captain Roller Ball," also was on hand. The 15-year-old daredevil, Mike Ballinger, straps a small rocket on his back and heads down the dragstrip on roller skates.

Although not reaching the speeds of the dragsters, the youngster contends for anyone who wants him to go faster. "Here, try for yourself and see what this feels like at 50 miles per hour."

Also on hand yesterday was Tom "The MongOOSE" McEwen, well-known funny car driver, who is entered in the race. McEwen became among the most famous of all funny car drivers in his side-by-side battles with Don "The Snake" Prudhomme.

Gene "The Snowman" Snow of Fort Worth, Tex., Jim "Superman" Nichole, The Blue Max and numerous other top funny car teams are expected to challenge McEwen during the race.

"Kansas" John Wiebe of Newton, Kan., is among the drivers in the top fuel dragster category entered. All of the top names in that class are expected here due to the closeness of the national points race in top fuel as they approach the final four races in the Grand American Series of Drag Racing, of which the Gateway Nationals is one.

St. Louisian Rich Thomas, who premiered his new pro-stocker at yesterday's press conference, is expected to give rugged competition to all of the pro-stockers in the field, with one possible exception, Ken Dondero in the "Grumpy's Toy" Monza.

Dondero has been sweeping the AHRA points race this season, driving past almost everything fortunate enough to get in front of the "toy" at the starting line.

Bill "The Grump" Jenkins, owner of the Grump's Toy cars and one of the most famous pro-stock racers of all time, also is expected to be on hand personally and may take his turn at the wheel of the new Monza.

More than 800 cars have pre-

entered the event, including more than 100 professional cars in the top fuel, funny car, pro-stock, top-comp and pro-comp classes. "This nearly assures us of the biggest and best drag race ever presented in the St. Louis area," AHRA President Tice said.

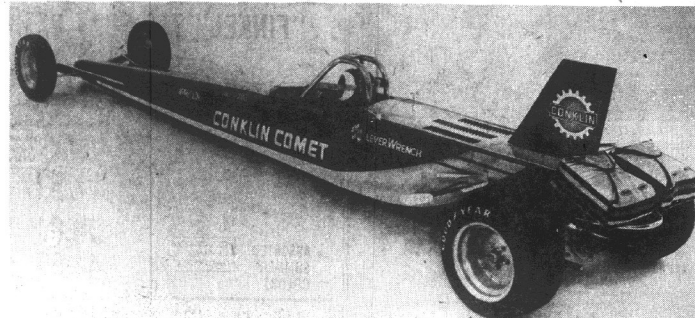

"Drivers can only earn points toward the AHRA professional championships through their showings in Grand American Series races and the points races are tight, assuring us we will be seeing nearly every big name in the sport this weekend," Tice added.

The track will open at noon Friday for time trials, professional and exhibition runs and other racing.

On Saturday, the gates will open at 10 a.m. for time trials, exhibition runs, class trophy eliminations and professional qualifying.

During Saturday's eliminations, cars will be "bumping" each other out of the field to earn starting spots in the fields of 16 funny cars and eight top fuel cars, pro-stock, pro-comp and top-comp.

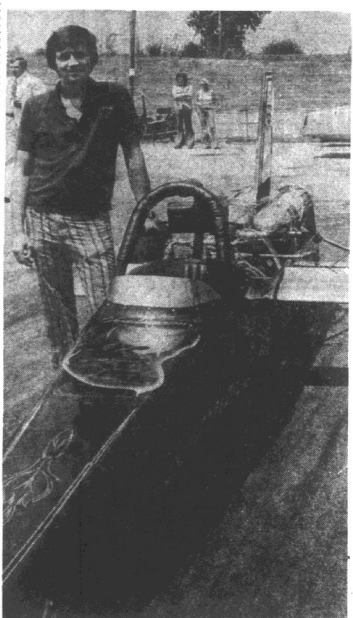

On Sunday, the gates will open at about 9 a.m. for a full day of class eliminations in stock, super stock, super stock modified, street, bike and selectra eliminator and final

Myers closing in on Wallace at speedway

Veteran stock car driver Bill Myers of East Alton, who hasn't captured a season track title at Tri-City Speedway in nearly five years, is "knocking on the door."

Current point leader is Russ Wallace of Arnold, Mo., and Myers is trailing the defending champion by only 35 points.

Late model and sportsman class racing will start Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Myers closed the gap on Wallace two weeks ago when the Missouri driver failed to compete that week. Then, during the weekend, Wallace was sidelined in the first heat race with a damaged vehicle front end when his late model stock car struck a dirt mound. Strong finished in the events added to Myers' points, giving him a total of 2,800. Wallace has 2,835.

Ralph Knox of Ellisberry, Mo., winner of the main event, will return Saturday to attempt a second straight win on the half-mile dirt oval. Rob Jones, also of Ellisberry, was erroneously listed Monday as the feature race winner.

Heavy rains last night prompted Fifth Division American Legion officials to postpone today's scheduled tournament-opening baseball games at Steeleville until tomorrow.

Coach Conrad "Babe" Champion of Tri-City Post 113 said the playing times remain the same, and the tourney will conclude on Monday instead of Sunday.

Red Devils vs. Saints

Games rained out

Rain and severe weather which struck the Quad-City area last evening forced postponement of sports events, including Madison softball, Venice baseball, Mitchell girls' softball and Granite City Park District softball and baseball games.

ERROR IN ERROR
Two fielding errors during a Sunday baseball game between the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals at Busch Stadium were committed by Manny Trillo of the Cubs. A previous story charging one of the errors to John "Champ" Summers of Granite City was erroneous. Summers has not been charged with an error this season with the Cubs.

STEAL AUTOMOBILE
The yellow 1973 Ford Galaxie two-door auto of Bob Orasco, 1415 Grand Ave., was stolen from the Granite City Steel Nash Street parking lot, it was discovered at 7:20 a.m. Wednesday.

Madison County Night baseball tickets on sale

Tickets for Madison County Night at St. Louis' Busch Stadium on Thursday, Aug. 5, are still available to the public at a cost of $3.50 per person. Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board, reports.

Persons wishing to obtain tickets may purchase them in the lobby of the Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville, and from the office of Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler.

Participating in pre-game ceremonies prior to a scheduled 7:30 p.m. baseball contest between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Philadelphia Phillies will be 27 Madison County mayors and state and county officials.

Hagnauer will open the activities, pitching to Madison County Sheriff John Maceras while Willard "Butch" Portell, clerk of the Madison County Circuit Court, wears the catcher's mask behind the plate. Melanie Asadorian of Granite City, the 1976 Miss Madison County Fair, will open the evening's program by singing the national anthem.

Last year, more than 600 county residents joined thousands of other baseball fans in a salute to Madison County.

DOUBLE PLAY SITUATION. Jim Gilmore's attempt to collect a hit for the Thomas team resulted in the ball being snared by Mercer hurler Greg Woik, who started a second-to-first double play. Mercer won the Illinois Inter-City League contest this week at Wilson Park 9-2.

Petrillo seeks regional title

Granite City's Petrillo Produce, 1976 Illinois women's state softball champion, will seek a first-place finish next month in regional competition at Fond du Lac, Wis., over other championship teams and runnerup.

Petrillo's placed second there last year. The 1976 regional tournament is scheduled for Aug. 13-15.

The local team, managed by Marvin Brokaw and Don Deterding, advanced to the regional following a state championship victory at Monticello, Ill.

Petrillo started its state competition Saturday with a 12-0 blanking of Murphysboro before losing 5-3 to Hecker in the double-elimination action.

On Saturday evening, Petrillo beat Collinsville 22-3, and then staged a six-game march to the championship Sunday.

Petrillo defeated Belleville 7-6, Morris, Ill., 9-1, Bill's Auto Body 5-1, Caseyville 4-1 and Hecker twice, 3-1 and 2-0.

Diane Daugherty pitched every game of the tourney for the champion team, and was later named to a tournament all-star team along with teammates Renee Schmidt, Robin Hayden and Cindy Worthen.

Cindy Worthen was selected as most valuable player for alert and aggressive outfielding and for her hitting prowess. Bill's Auto Body, also of Granite City, placed fourth in the state competition and Shannon Marmion was cited for having a batting average of .432.

The Monticello victory gave Petrillo its fourth straight state title, and the team also took runnerup honors in 1972 to the Granite City Rebels.

Petrillo's state tournament record in five years of competition now stands at 41 wins and four losses.

First-place Mercer hosts Highland; Thomas on road

Mercer's baseball nine, winner in eight of its last nine outings, still maintains a lead over the five other Illinois Inter-City League teams with a 17-6 record going into this Sunday's 1 p.m. twinbill at Wilson Park against Highland-Pierson.

Highland is tied with the East Alton Vans for second in the league standings, both with 15-7 marks. That will change Saturday when the Vans and Panama compete in a makeup doubleheader starting at 1 p.m. Fairfax, which hosts the Vans at 1 p.m. Sunday, has a 9-14 record.

Panama is 9-13 and Thomas of Granite City is 2-20. These two teams will play each other at Panama Sunday in a 1 p.m. twinbill.

Highland and Mercer have split, winning two games each. Panama was beaten by Thomas once earlier this season.

Shrine benefit game Saturday by Big Red

The St. Louis Cardinals will host the New York Jets in a football game that will bring many thousands of dollars to the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children, St. Louis Unit, Saturday night at 7:30.

"With the greatest potential ever, this game should be a large gift for the St. Louis Unit Hospital," a spokesman said. "And with Ainal Temple of Southern Illinois and Moolah Temple of St. Louis combining their forces, there should be a full house if the people realize how much good their ticket money will do."

"The Shrine will receive an average of $3 per ticket for the hospital, and since there will be no funds for promotion, this will make a tidy sum if the gate reaches the 30,000 or more that Ainal Potentate Bob Hardy expects. By filling Busch Stadium, it could mean more than $100,000 for the hospital and its work.

"Last year, Ainal Temple and Moolah combined sent more than 600 youngsters to the Shrine Hospital for orthopedic treatment. No money is accepted from insurance companies, the state or the federal government for their treatment."

"They also treated many in the Burns Institutes located at Galveston, Texas, Boston, Mass., and Cincinnati, Ohio."

The budget for 1976 for the 22 hospitals was $35 million. The St. Louis Hospital is a 100-bed unit located at 2001 S. Lindbergh Blvd.

Tickets for Saturday's game are $10 each.

Boats' pedestal seats, handrails may be weak

Reports to the Coast Guard in this area indicate a substantial number of boating accidents in which the operator or a passenger fell overboard. Many of the falls overboard occurred when deck hardware such as handrails, ladders or pedestal seats did not support the weight load placed on them, Coast Guard spokesmen said this week.

In some cases, the person drowned or was subsequently struck by the boat or propeller, it was noted.

"Pedestal seats are particularly popular on bass boats. They are also installed on center console boats."

"Handrails are often installed for decoration—or only to help a person maintain balance while walking on slippery or narrow deck space—and may not be capable of supporting a person's entire weight.

"The Coast Guard has found that some manufacturers use wood screws or self-tapping screws to secure pedestal seats and handrails to the deck. As a result, placing pressure on them may tear them from the deck."

"Current and prospective owners of boats equipped with pedestal seats or handrails are urged to inspect their handrails and seats for proper attachment. Through-bolts with lock nuts on wood backing should be substituted for wood screws to preclude the possibility of failure during operation."

"Since boat vibrations have caused locknuts to come loose, a periodic inspection of fastenings should be included in the owner's routine maintenance schedule."

Golf tourney Aug. 8, 15

The sixth annual Granite City Park District golf tournament at the Arlington Golf Club's 18-hole course will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 8.

Qualifying rounds will determine individual placements in each of four classes—championship, A, B and C.

Finals will begin at 1 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 15. A champion and runnerup in each class will be presented trophies.

Entries are limited to 100 persons, with the filing deadline 5 p.m. Friday, Aug. 6, at the Wilson Park office. There is a $14 fee for non-club members and a $4 fee for members. Fees include two 18-hole rounds.

Tournament winners will be determined by combining qualifying round scores and final round scores. An eight-stroke shootout will be in effect.

CARDINAL QUARTERBACK Jim Hart (right) pauses from his duties in practice long enough to spend some time with D'juan Williams, a five-year-old patient from the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children. Quarterback Hart, a graduate of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, has been a visitor at the Shrine Hospital for the past four years, and this Saturday night at Busch Stadium he will play against the New York Jets in a football game that will help send money to support D'juan and the hundreds of other children that use the St. Louis Unit Hospital. Potentate Bob Hardy (center) of Ainal Temple, who covers Southern Illinois and its 8,400 Shrine members, joins in the visit with D'juan, who lost both legs in a truck accident. The Illinois youngster will soon be walking with the aid of the Shrine program.

Tri-Mor Bowl to aid Muscular Dystrophy

Stubby Kaye, widely-known comedian who is celebrating his 25th year as an entertainer, will make a personal appearance at 2 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 7, at the Tri-Mor Bowling Center, 3701 Nameoki Road, in conjunction with a two-day bowling marathon for the benefit of the Granite City Muscular Dystrophy drive.

Kaye will appear at The Barn Dinner Theater in Ballwin, Mo., Aug. 3 through Sept. 5, in the production, "God's Favorite." The bowling promotion will begin at 7 p.m. Aug. 6, and close at midnight on Aug. 7, with all proceeds to be donated to the campaign drive, according to Glenna Stagg, an employee of Tri-Mor. She said all game fees have been set at 35 cents and special tournaments will be available as well as open play bowling.

Booths featuring a variety of items for sale and games are to be set up on the parking lot and funds from the project also will be donated to muscular dystrophy.

Another special feature of the event will be a bowling clinic directed by Tom Hennessey, a former Granite City bowler who has been inducted into the Hall of Fame, is holder of many bowling titles and a member of the Budweiser team.

He will be at the bowling lanes from 4 to 6 p.m. on Aug. 7. Admission will be a 35-cent ticket which the purchaser may use to bowl a single game or purchase three tickets to attend the clinic, it was announced.

University funding to aid veterans

The Office of Veteran Affairs at SIUE has been awarded $38,116 to provide services for veterans at the university.

The grant, known as the Veterans Cost of Instruction Program, is a yearly fund given to colleges and universities which maintain a certain number of veterans throughout the year.

Roy Brown of Edwardsville, a student worker in the Veterans Affairs Office said, "There are nearly 2,000 veterans on the SIUE campus. We have been given the grant primarily to provide services for them."

"The major project that the Veterans Affairs Office must maintain is that of an outreach program to veterans in the Madison County area. We have to inform the veterans of the opportunities available to them at SIUE. The money is received from the Office of Health, Education and Welfare."

"Besides the outreach program, veterans are provided academic counseling. We have two full-time Manpower people in the Admissions Office to advise veterans who wish to take advantage of what SIUE has to offer."

"This year's grant had been cut from the amount received last year. A bill was introduced in Congress asking for more money, but we didn't receive it," he said. The reason for the reduction was that more colleges and universities applied this year, Brown related.

Church youth group plans canoe trip

A canoe trip on Black River coupled with a campout has been planned by the Nameoki Presbyterian Youth Fellowship Friday, Aug. 6. The group has planned an all-out supper that evening to be followed by a camp fire and song fest.

A picnic with youth from the Godfrey Methodist Church will be another event on Aug. 15 at Pere Marquette State Park. The group completed a work camp earlier in the summer on the campus of the College of the Ozarks in Clarksville, Ark.

Several members of the group are involved in programs within the church and community. Among those serving in the Vacation Bible School are Mark Britton, Dana Toussaint, Bill Polley, Becky Corrales, Gene Scroggins, Carole Gebeher, Andy Pierson, Karen Toussaint, Darlene Johnnesse, and Brenda Watts. Those serving in the Tri-City Retarded Citizens Day Camp at Wilson Park are: Bill Flinn, Linda Gebeher, Daryl Toussaint, Andy Pierson and Jim Watson.

The Youth Fellowship is open to all junior and senior high school students of the community. The group meets Sunday evenings at 6. The summer youth workers coordinating the varied activities are Birds Buzan and Marie Mitchell.

Enlistee assigned to Lackland AFB

John S. Teeter, 22, husband of Mrs. Lynn Teeter of Granite City, has enlisted in the United States Air Force, according to SSGT. Michael C. Kimberlain, local recruiter.

Shortly after the enlistment ceremony, Airman Teeter flew to Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Tex., for six weeks of basic training. The 1972 graduate of Granite City High School South will work in a career specialty requiring an electronic aptitude.

Law may block grant for new Nameoki police Unit

Opponents of the creation of a volunteer police department in Nameoki Township Precincts 3, 8 and 11 may be successful in blocking that department under a previously unnoticed law which may prohibit Nameoki Township from giving that department a $60,000 grant.

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, an opponent of the volunteer police concept, told the Press-Record Tuesday afternoon that she had discovered a 1975 state law which prohibits townships or other governmental bodies from giving grants to not-for-profit corporations in existence less than one year.

Nameoki Township had approved a $60,000 grant from federal revenue sharing to purchase a police car, uniforms, radios and other equipment for a group of about a dozen volunteers who have been certified as "supervisors of safety" under Madison County Sheriff John Maeras.

June 28, the Nameoki Township Board of Auditors opened bids for a police car and radio which the township's finance committee for consideration. No action has been taken on these bids and the auditors are withholding awarding contracts until it can be determined whether a squad car, and equipment purchase by the inactive State Park Auxiliary Police Department may be available for the Nameoki unit.

The State Park squad car and equipment was purchased with a $9,500 grant from the township, but the department has ceased regular operations due to political divisions among the volunteer patrolmen. Earlier this month, the Nameoki Township Board warned the State Park volunteers that they must resume operations by Aug. 15, or the police car equipment and uniforms would be turned over to the Nameoki volunteer unit. No action was taken by the Town Board Monday night.

After Mrs. Hawkins' statement Tuesday, Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell, checked the state statutes cited by Mrs. Hawkins prohibiting a township grant to a not-for-profit corporation in existence less than one year.

Whitsell said, "It appears on the surface that we may not be able to grant money to the State Park police unit. This section of the statutes was not brought to our attention before."

He said he intends to contact the township's attorney, H. Carl Runge to determine whether later legislation may have amended the law being cited.

"Sometimes the law does not mean what it appears to say. That is why we hire attorneys," Whitsell added.

If the township is unable to issue a grant to the Nameoki Township unit, several alternatives are to be studied, including transferring the State Park equipment to the Nameoki volunteers.

If no immediate solutions to the problem are found, the department still can be issued the grant next spring since a state charter was issued to the Nameoki Volunteer Police Department, Inc. this spring.

Another possibility is to find another organization in existence more than one year which would be willing to serve as a sponsoring agency for the Nameoki Volunteer Police Department, Whitsell said.

DENNIS J. ORSEY of Granite City, center, who graduated this year as a political science major at the University of Illinois, is shown with State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) and State Rep. Joe E. Job growth likely in social work, clerical, engineering, health fields

In announcing the 1976-77 edition of the "Occupational Outlook Handbook," Secretary of Labor W. J. Casey Jr. has characterized the difficulties experienced by young people in their transition from school to work as a serious national problem.

He emphasized that providing students with accurate and comprehensive career guidance information is vital if they are to plan for careers suited to their abilities and aspirations. The handbook, which is published every two years by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, is a primary source of vocational guidance information.

For each of the hundreds of occupations that are discussed, the book describes what the work is like; the personal qualifications, training and educational requirements needed for the occupation; the working conditions usually found on the job; earnings; future job outlook; chances for advancement, and where to find additional information.

Job prospects in the years ahead are outlined. The new handbook reveals that between 1974 and 1985:

- Growth in professional and technical jobs, those that usually require a college degree, is expected to continue to outpace the rate for all occupations combined.
- Demand will be strong in the health field and in such specialties as engineering, personnel and labor relations work, social work, and systems analysis.
- Teaching occupations will continue to be overcrowded with jobseekers. Similarly, the rapid increase in the number of law school graduates that already has created competition for jobs in this field is expected to continue and cause competition to intensify.
- The clerical field, the largest occupational group, is expected to be the fastest growing major group. Some of the occupations that will grow fastest than average are secretaries and stenographers, typists, receptionists and bank clerks and tellers.

Demand also will be strong in those occupations that are related to electronic data processing operations.

Service workers also will experience a faster than average employment growth. Among the occupations in this group likely to grow rapidly are building custodians, cooks and chefs, police officers, and licensed practical nurses and nursing aides.

The great majority of the 58 million job openings expected through 1985 will stem from the need to replace workers who die or retire. Only about 30 per cent of the jobs that will become available will result from employment growth.

About 80 per cent of these 58 million openings will be in jobs not requiring a four-year college degree.

Rapid employment growth is expected for construction machinery operators, workers in lithographic occupations, police officers, waste water treatment plant operators, and workers in most para-professional health occupations.

Also, mechanics and repairers of such diverse products as computers, air-conditioning, refrigeration and heating equipment, business machines and industrial machinery.

Post-high-school training, such as that obtained through apprenticeship and junior and community college programs, will be of increasing importance.

as educational requirements in many clerical, sales, service and craft occupations continue to rise.

The format of the 1976-77 edition of the occupational outlook book has been simplified. A number of sections on individual occupations now contain information on the short-run effects of business cycles on job opportunities as well as long-run expectations.

The new handbook uses revised job titles developed for the "Dictionary of Occupational Titles" and includes expanded information on high school courses that are useful preparation for each occupation.

The introductory material also provides pointers on where to go for more information and describes the assumptions and methods used in preparing the projections of employment requirements.

A section entitled "Tomorrow's Jobs" discusses the changes expected to take place through the mid-1980s in the economy's broad industrial and occupations profile.

An addition designed to help both students and counselors is a guide on how to use the handbook. This section suggests several points to bear in mind when evaluating the career potential of occupations, with particular attention given to interpreting outlook information.

It points out, for example, that job opportunities in an occupation usually are favorable if employment is increasing more rapidly, or at least at the same rate, as employment in the economy as a whole.

But a potentially rewarding career should not be ruled out simply because the prospective growth rate is slow.

Even occupations which are growing very slowly, or declining, offer job opportunities because there always is a need to replace workers who leave an occupation.

The handbook also points out that the size of an occupation is just as important as the growth rate in determining the number of job openings that will be available.

Getting a job may be difficult in a field that is so small that even rapid growth cannot create many openings.

At the same time, if an occupation is large, replacement needs can create so many openings that, despite slow growth, job prospects may be brighter than in a faster-growing but smaller occupation.

While readers are urged to take a second look at their career choices if the prospect of relatively few openings or strong competition exists, the book warns that outlook information alone should not prevent young people from pursuing a particular career if they feel that their aptitudes and interests justify their goals.

Drive chairman for Madison

Mrs. Brenda Harper, 2014 Fifth St., Madison, has been appointed chairperson of the Madison Branch of Life Campaign by Jack Buck, chairman of the Gateway Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

This year's campaign in Madison, according to Mrs. Harper, will begin with a door-to-door march this fall.

Among the programs of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is support for over 100 Cystic Fibrosis Centers across the nation. "These Centers provide diagnosis, treatment and referral to children who have these lung-damaging diseases," Mrs. Harper said.

The foundation also funds research to find a cure and control for cystic fibrosis, the most serious of these lung-damaging diseases and to develop better treatments for children suffering from all lung disorders.

Cystic Fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children, affecting one out of every 1,600 babies born each year and occurring when a child inherits two genes for the disease, one from each parent.

"We don't need more reasons than these to actively support the Breath of Life Campaign," Mrs. Harper added.

Dr. Lamb director of Ripley Center

Dr. Lamb's wife is the former Linda Gene Trachsel of Granite City.

MR. AND MRS. STEPHEN LOFTUS who were married in an evening ceremony at Suburban Baptist Church. The bride is the former Miss Brenda Sue Randall, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Randall, 2136 Dawn Place.

Brenda Sue Randall and Stephen Loftus are wed

Miss Brenda Sue Randall and Stephen Scott Loftus exchanged wedding vows in an early evening ceremony on July 17, at Suburban Baptist Church.

Altar bouquets of white gladiolus and white mums and white satin ribbons with springs of greenery marking the pews provided the setting for the candlelight double ring service performed at 6 p.m. by the Rev. Bob Worley.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Randall, 2136 Dawn Place. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Loftus, reside at 26 Bermuda Lane.

For her wedding, the bride, chose an antique ivory satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice accented with ruffled lace and high neckline edged with insertion lace to form a standup collar.

Insertion lace enhanced the long full sleeves which were gathered into a wide fitted cuffs. The slightly full skirt fell softly from a natural waistline and was encircled with a deep ruffled flounce at the hemline. Her shoulder length tiered veil of bridal illusion was bordered with matching lace and was held in place with pearls and baby's breath.

She carried a nosegay of white Sweetheart roses, baby's breath and greenery festooned with ivory ribbon streamers. Maid of honor Miss Mary Beth Brewer and bridesmaids Miss Mary Geroff and Mrs. Sue Umbaugh wore identical full length dresses in a voile print in muted nature colors on a cream color background.

The square necklines and molded bodices were enhanced with an ivory lace bib effect, and an open insertion lace braid trimmed the full length sleeves. A self fabric bow defined the natural waistlines of the full skirts which terminated with double ruffled hems.

Each attendant wore sprigs of baby's breath in their hair and held nosegays of white miniature carnations, white Sweetheart roses and baby's breath with ivory streamers.

The groom chose Larry Wolf as his best man, Greg Umbaugh and Eric Curry served as groomsmen. Escorting the guests to their seats were Mark Loftus and Danny Randall, brothers of the bride couple. Guests were received by the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Loftus at a reception held at the VFW Hall, 2044 Washington Ave., immediately after the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Loftus, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner for members of the wedding party in their home on the evening preceding the services.

After a wedding trip to the Missouri Ozarks the couple will reside in Granite City.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School and attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

STEVE STAGNER NAMES DAUGHTER STEPHANIE

JULY BRIDE. Mrs. Kenneth Thomas Bezan who was married at the First United Methodist Church of Urbana, Ill. The bride is the former Miss Debra Jean Carlisle, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Carlisle of Urbana.

Debra Carlisle marries Kenneth Thomas Bezan

An out of town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Debra Jean Carlisle, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Carlisle, 611 East Burkwood Court, Urbana, Ill. and Kenneth Thomas Bezan, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bezan, 3145 Myrtle Ave., on July 24 at the First United Methodist Church of Urbana.

Bouquets of white daisies, gladiolus and dark blue star flowers decorated the altar for the double ring ceremony performed at 4 p.m. by the Rev. Robert Mulligan and the Rev. George Dorsey.

Nuptial selections were "Annie's Song" and "Follow Me."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride, chose a full length white polyester gown fashioned with a bodice trimmed with floral Venise lace embroidered with tiny pearls, long full sleeves and a cathedral train appliqued with Venise lace motifs.

She wore a Venise lace carmel cap to hold in place her elbow length veil and she carried a cascade of white daisies, roses and English ivy.

Matron of honor Mrs. Jill Lee and bridesmaids Miss Rebecca Carlisle, a cousin of the bride and Miss Nancy Bezan, the groom's sister, selected identical blue polyester dresses.

Their formal gowns were designed with "Empire" waistlines, low oval necklines and long straight sleeves accented with wide white Venise lace.

Each attendant wore a white picture hat and held a colonial bouquet of white daisies, baby's breath and blue star flowers.

The flower girl Michele Bezan, a sister of the groom, was dressed in a blue frock similar to the adult attendants.

She wore a lace bow in her hair and carried a white wicker basket filled with summer blossoms.

Attending the groom as best man was Joseph Dufficy, Groomsmen and ushers were Randall Schmidt, Jeffrey Stanczak, Rick Carlisle, a brother of the bride and Tom Cowan.

Members of the bridal party attended a rehearsal dinner at Sir George's Royal Buffet in Urbana on the evening prior to the wedding.

Guests were received at a reception held at the Lewis Faculty Center, Urbana, after the service.

The newlyweds will tour the state of Missouri this week and will be at home in St. Louis after Aug. 1.

The former Miss Carlisle received a B.S. degree in psychology from the University of Illinois in 1975 and a M.Ed. degree in counseling this year.

Her husband also received a B.S. degree in microbiology at the University and will be attending Washington University Dental School this fall.

Gerald Bock officiated before an altar adorned with an arrangement of pink and blue carnations, white snapdragons, and white poms, flanked on either side by candleabra entwined with flowers and greenery. The bride chose a gown of candlelight-ivory organza, fashioned with a Victorian wedding ring collar of Venice lace, a sheer yoke embroidered in Brussels lace. Venice lace motifs enhanced the full bishop sleeves and cuffs, the empire bodice, the A-line skirt, bordering the hem and encircling the full chapel train. Her ivory-toned Mantilla, edged with Venice lace, was secured to a Venise lace camelot cap. She carried a cascade of ivory roses, pink sweetheart roses and white Sweetheart roses tipped blue, accented with stephanotis and baby's breath. marriage by her father, the former Miss Debevc, chose a full length ivory satin gown enhanced with lace appliques on the high neckline, and repeated on the bodice, sleeves and full skirt.

Mary Patterson married in afternoon ceremony

Father Mike Inyart of Charleston, Ill., performed a double ring ceremony at 2 p.m. on June 26 at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Madison, uniting in marriage Miss Mary Patterson and Bill Bridges.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Patterson, 1224 Alton Ave., Madison. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bridges, reside at 505 Layton Road.

Floral arrangements of gladioli, carnations and pompons in rainbow colors decorated the altar and the pews were marked with white satin bows.

Nuptial selections included "Follow Me," "Sunset Sunrise," "Wedding Song," "You Are Here," "Sabbath Prayer," "Hail Mary, Gentle Woman" and "Beginning Today." The guitar music was played by a group of nuns including Sister Marie Patterson, a sister of the bride and Sisters Barbara McMullen, Mary Sue Mertens, Ann Paim and Sharon Nolle.

A white polyester knit gown featuring a lace bodice with an oval neckline, long lace sleeves and cathedral train was worn by the bride.

Her melody length veil was attached to a lace Queen Ann cap and she held a cascade of carnations, pompons, baby's breath and greenery tied with rainbow colored streamers.

Maid of honor Miss Elrena McGovern and bridesmaids, Mrs. Debbie Marczak, a sister of the groom and Miss Rita Dorris, chose knit dresses complemented with organza floral print jackets with long sleeves, in pastel blue, peach and mint green. Each attendant wore a white picture hat and held a colonial bouquet of pompons and baby's breath centered with a cluster of carnations.

Allments

which was built in the early 1900s, was totally outdated; so, area residents often drove to St. Louis for medical attention.

"Since that time, however, we've had building campaigns to add two new wings; we've added $16 million budget and 55 doctors servicing our staff.

"Sometimes, no publicity causes bad publicity. We have free immunizations, pre-natal and VD clinics that many people just don't know about.

"We know what type of medical care we can handle. We don't do major heart or neurosurgery yet.

"One of the biggest problems is still lack of enough beds for patients. We'll always be in a planning stage to build more."

An issue that will also probably arise is that of abortions. It will have to be solved somehow, but if the hospital decides to allow abortions, the nuns will have to leave.

A typical day for Sister Thomas begins quite early when she attends the small "chapel upstairs" in the nuns' quarters. She is in her office—where the door is always open—around 8 a.m. to take phone calls, answer correspondence or meet with the administrative staff, doctors or anyone who pops in.

Before she returns upstairs for lunch, she tours the hospital—seeing patients, staff and visitors—or she attends meetings.

She speaks to everyone and makes a point of using the person's name if she knows it. No one seems uncomfortable that she is around, and an amazing rapport and warmth exists between her and the associates of the hospital.

A worker in the public relations department says, "She's a hard-headed businesswoman when it comes to running this hospital, but she is one of the finest people I know. Everyone here is crazy about her."

In the afternoon, she often shows visitors around the different wings. The oldest wing is being renovated.

One afternoon, when a visitor remarked that she had been born in that wing, Sister Thomas was thrilled and pointed out the former locations of the nursery and the labor rooms.

When the visitor said that a Sister Mary Stanislaus had signed her birth certificate, Sister Thomas yelled with delight, "Stanley!" and took the visitor upstairs to have a photograph taken with the 84-year-old nun.

Sister Thomas also became good friends with the former president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the late John S. Rendleman, who was a member of the governing board at the hospital. Sister Thomas continued her correspondence with Rendleman even when she was in Rome last fall.

She wrote Rendleman during his illness that a small picture on her desk—a chick being held in a man's hand—reminded her of him—a chick in God's hand.

When Rendleman's office called to tell Sister Thomas of his death, she said, "While he wasn't a religious man, we loved him as everyone did. And I know that God had already taken him."

At the end of the working day, she attends vespers in the hospital chapel and then heads upstairs to her quarters for the evening.

Fifteen nuns, ranging in age from 23 to 91, share the fifth-floor quarters.

Some of their interests include decoupage, sewing and volleyball. There is even a bumper pool table in the sitting room.

Sister Thomas, herself, loves decoupage and plants. Occasionally, she sits down at the organ to play "Alexander's Ragtime Band" for visitors.

Supper is characterized by a long table and happy times. Everyone talks about how good the food is, especially the peas on occasion.

Sister Thomas quips, "Peas on earth." Everyone groans. She loves pranks. During supper, she makes plans to carry on a long-standing joke with another nun and also decides to have a yarn wig made for the balding hospital

Police try to retain control of murder site

Granite City police said yesterday they will fight attempts by the heirs of the late Richard and Anna Kube to gain possession of the Kube home at 24th and Iowa streets in which the couple was murdered March 4.

A suit has been filed in Madison County Circuit Court by Hildegard Fortner, executrix of the Kube estate, who is seeking a hearing and order that the city return possession of the house to the estate and pay for damages to the home.

She alleges the electric power has been turned off, the refrigerator was left open and food spoiled, causing an odor throughout the house, that white powder covers the home, that the residence is in a state of disarray and is deteriorated, and that the estate has been unable to sell or rent the house since the deaths of the Kubes.

A police spokesman said attempts to find clues in the house have been continuing and several detectives were at the house yesterday continuing the investigation. "We feel there may be clues in that house we have not yet uncovered," the officer said.

The police have appeared in court on at least two occasions, seeking continued possession of the house as evidence.

The Kubes were murdered in the basement of the house as the electric cords to steam irons were tied tightly around their necks.

The double murder started what has been one of the largest investigations in the city's history, but there have been no arrests.

The police spokesman said yesterday that some new clues have been uncovered recently which appear "promising," and which are being investigated.

A $1,000 reward which has been posted recently by a citizens' committee for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible has led to several clues, although some have been "dead ends," he concluded.

Her eyes glow like a child's and her huge smile is ever-present.

After supper, Sister Thomas often receives calls from down in the hospital. She issues instructions quickly and quietly. If someone needs to see her about a matter, she will go back to her office, sit in a huge, dark rocker and visit quietly while the night noises of the hospital go on.

She loves the hospital and readily talks about her place in it. "Illness can be a fertile period—helping people to realize that they live to limits and should be a savor of the moment."

"People are filled with the goodness of God, and I try to make every associate and patient here feel individual when I see them, so they may develop their full potential and feel worthwhile. That's my Christian creed here."

At the end of the day, she often goes out to the stairwell, which has large windows looking out at the city. She always goes there to watch storms, which she thinks are beautiful.

She sees a friend while climbing the stairs, and they chat briefly. The big smile flashes again as she says, "Hey, I gotta go. I've got to go talk to the Lord."

"emergency phase" to the "regular phase."

At that time the amount of flood insurance now available to homeowners and businesses will be doubled and the additional amounts of insurance will be subject to actuarial rates rather than the federally-subsidized rates that are presently available.

In addition, it was noted, communities will be required to adopt and enforce a flood plain ordinance to regulate all new construction and subsequent rehabilitation in the flood-hazard areas designated in the report.

Mayor Schuler said local authorities have not yet had an opportunity to study in detail the potential effects it may have, but that "this obviously is a serious matter," because of the reference to re quirements for "flood plains" legislation. He said full details of the program will be brought out in next week's hearings.

The report of the study made for Granite City said the purpose of the study is to investigate the existence and severity of flood hazards in Granite City and "to aid in the administration of the Flood Insurance Act of 1968 and the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973."

Initial use of the information, the report said, "will be to convert Granite City to the regular program of flood insurance by the Federal Insurance Administration," and for use by local and regional planners in their efforts to promote sound land use and flood plain development.

Excerpts of the study report said: Granite City remains a very industrialized community, with steel being the major industry. Over 77 per cent of the work force is engaged in manufacturing, compared to less than 29 per cent of the work force in the metropolitan area. Granite City is largely a working and middle class community, with few people below the poverty level and few people that are very wealthy. The average income is slightly below the average for the metropolitan area.

Nearly the entire incorporated area of Granite City is developed to urban use. There are large, extensive, heavy industrial areas throughout the southern and western parts of the community, comprising nearly one-sixth of the land. Single family homes are the most intense land use, comprising over one-third of the property. The oldest homes are found in the western and central areas of the community, with newer homes in the northeastern areas.

Granite City is located entirely in the American Bottom and has relatively level topography. There are few areas where the mean sea level elevations are above 330 feet or below 410 feet. The community was subject to virtually complete Mississippi River flood inundation prior to the building of a levee protecting the community.

The community is on very thick alluvial and glacial valley train materials that average 120 feet deep, and is underlain by Mississippian and Pennsylvanian rock, primarily composed of limestone and dolomite, with small amounts of sandstone and shale. The soil is mainly a mixture of impervious alluvium with clay being the predominant component; hence, soils in the community have a low permeability.

Flood plain forests were naturally common around ponding areas, lakes, and areas close to the Mississippi River, but were not common in a large part of the city. An active program in the early 1950's to plant trees in the community left Granite City more heavily forested than its surrounding communities.

Citizens to be honored Friday

Special certificates of appreciation will be presented Friday to area citizens who have assisted in the program of the Mental Health Clinic Quad-City Center at a program at Sunset Hills Country Club.

The awards will be presented by William Atkins, executive director.

The event will begin with a social hour at 6 p.m., dinner and the program from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m., followed by dancing.

An annual report also will be given.

Dr. Felicia Koch is the dinner chairman. The Rev. Ellis Dugger is the newly-elected chairman of the board.

William "Bill" Kinder retired as chairman of the board July 1 after serving in that capacity four years.

are very common near the Mississippi River as they are both very resistant to flood damage. American elms and various types of oak trees are common throughout the community.

Climatological data are not kept specifically for Granite City, but information for the St. Louis area applies generally to Granite City. However, there is evidence that because of air pollution and other factors, Granite City receives significantly more rain than Missouri portions of the St. Louis area.

The St. Louis region has a temperate climate. Average January temperatures are 32 degrees and the average July temperature is 78 degrees. The maximum recorded temperature in St. Louis was 115 degrees in July 1954, and the lowest was 22 degrees in January 1884. The St. Louis area is humid all year round.

Annual averages for 7 a.m. and 1 p.m. are 82 per cent and 57 per cent, respectively, with little monthly variation. Annual precipitation averages about 38 inches, with the heaviest amount falling between April and June, and the least amount from December through February. The average annual snowfall is about 17 inches. The winds in the area average from about 7 to 12 miles per hour.

Since the earliest settlers, Granite City has been plagued by flood problems. The community suffered virtually complete inundation in 1844, 1851, and again in 1903. A levee system now protects the city from Mississippi River flooding; however, interior runoff collects in the low-lying areas of the community and in areas without storm sewers.

Low-lying areas are flooded for hours and even days because of inadequate drainage systems. Major interior flooding occurred in 1946, 1957, 1961, and 1968. The groundwater level in the Granite City area is very high and several factors have aggravated the situation in recent years.

After the 1973 flood, groundwater reached very high levels and contributed to approximately 45 sewer breaks. Groundwater has also been responsible for damages to residences by causing foundation cracks, damaging furnaces and appliances, and leaving a residue from the sanitary sewer system.

A levee system to protect Granite City from a large Mississippi River flood in excess of a 500-year frequency was completed in 1964. The limits of the 100-year flood were determined by approximate methods. These limits were established after interviewing newspaper and other accounts of past flooding; interviewing residents of suspected flood prone areas; and contacting city officials, the Illinois Department of Transportation, Southwestern Regional Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, and several consulting firms. Rainfall data and storm sewer records also were utilized in determining the 100-year flood limits for Granite City.

Geralyn Sudholt becomes Mrs. Glenn H. Williams

Miss Geralyn Sudholt, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sudholt and Glenn Williams, a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams Jr., all of Granite City, were united in marriage in an afternoon ceremony on July 24 at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Father Kenneth J. Becker performed a double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon before an altar adorned with arrangements of coral gladioli and pom poms interspersed with greenery.

Mrs. Lois Bilbrey sang several wedding selections accompanied at the organ by Jack Jenkins.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Sudholt, selected a floor length gown of white crystal organza featuring a sheer yoke of pin-tucked organza. Venise daisy lace motifs covered the molded bodice and were scattered on the silhouette skirt.

A narrow self ruffle edged the stand-up collar and trimmed the cuffs of the long puffed sleeves. A deep ruffle encircled the hem which flowed into a long full train.

Matching daisies edged her circular cathedral veil secured by a profile headpiece of lace. She carried a nosegay of Talsman roses, baby's breath and leather fern.

Maid of honor was Miss Mary Ellen Sudholt, a cousin of the bride and bridesmaids included Miss June Williams, the groom's sister, Miss Connie Heins and Miss Diane Becherer. They were gowned alike in peach maracaine jersey dresses designed with round necklines, high yokes with circular caplets edged in white Venise lace to create short cap sleeves. Their skirts fell softly from the empire bodices.

Each carried nosegays of peach carnations, while daisy pom poms and baby's breath and wore a halo of matching flowers in their hair.

Craig Sudholt, a brother of the bride, served as best man. Groomsmen were Kevin Zesch, Patrick Bury and Jerry Duncan.

Escorting the guests to their seats were William Laub, a cousin of the groom, Don Goldschmidt, Jerome Lapinski and Ronald Brink, a brother-in-law of the groom.

A reception was held at Lewis and Clark Restaurant, East Alton and the rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Roastie's Restaurant in Collinsville.

The newlyweds will reside in St. Louis following a wedding trip touring the western states. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sudholt wore a mint green polyester gown fashioned with long fitted sleeves and a Queen Anne neckline edged with tiny Venise lace. The groom's mother was attired in a long powder blue quiana jersey dress featuring a square neckline, bubble sleeves and smoked bodice. Both mothers wore corsages of roses and baby's breath.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Brink of Arlington Heights, Ill., former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zesch and daughter Shelly of Riverdale, Ill., Mrs. Maria Bonini, the bride's maternal grandmother from Herrin, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Brink of Berkeley Heights, N.J. and their sons, Matthew and Stephen.

Bridal shower fetes Kim Shaw

A pink and blue motif was used to decorate the Namoki Recreation Center for the bridal shower given last week honoring Miss Kim Shaw.

Hostesses Mrs. Pam Robinson, Miss Jan Rose and Miss Tami Jateff directed several games and awarded prizes to the winners.

Guests attending included Mesdames Faye Born, Mildred Edwards, Wilma Childress, Edith Headrich, Mildred Brown, Ann Howard, Rosemary Pabst, Lois Schmidt, Wilma McQuinn, Ethel Jateff, Misses Harb Miller, Janice Bain, Kay Murray, Ruth Fisher and Mrs. Blanche Jones and Mrs. Thelma Shaw, grandmother and mother of the honoree.

Miss Shaw will be married to Tony Vesel Jr. on Aug. 13 at St. John Vespertine Church of Christ.

MRS. GLENN H. WILLIAMS formerly Miss Geralyn Sudholt, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sudholt of Granite City. She was married at St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church.

1951 graduates host reunion

The 1951 graduating classes of Granite City High School held a 25th reunion during the weekend at Sunset Hills Country Club. There were 185 persons who attended the gala affair, and were greeted by class presidents Edward McGovern and Bill Balke.

After the cocktail hour a buffet dinner was served with burl Martin giving the invocation. Red, white and blue decorations were carried out in the table appointments. Each one received a liberty bell shaped program and letter opener inscribed with the letters GCHS in silver lettering on school colors of red and black.

Americ Kachigian served as master of ceremonies and acknowledged the committee members responsible for planning the event.

Group pictures were taken throughout the evening and those attending are to contact Earl Baugher at 875-7616 in a week to make arrangements for picking up the photos, it was announced.

Humorous awards were presented to those who were married the longest length of time, those with the most children and grandchildren.

Dancing was to the music of "The Novus IV." Class deans who attended and were presented with flowers included Mr. and Mrs. Victor Anderson, Max Mary Luther and Miss Dorothy Morgan.

BPW membership drive opens

A "County Fair for Membership" was the theme of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club membership campaign kick off dinner meeting held last week at the Moose Lodge Hall.

"Membership" was the topic of the guest speaker, Mrs. Judy Wiemann of Edwardsville, the 1975 state membership chairman. She spoke on women's role in the third century and the responsibility of BPW to all women, and announced ways to increase the club's membership in conjunction with the current slogan, "Each One—Reach One."

Mrs. Judith McCann, the club membership chairman, introduced two new members, Mrs. Adele Thomas and Mrs. Tina Thomas, and presented prospective members who will be received into the club at the

Aug. 18 dinner meeting to be held at 6:30 p.m. at Charlie's Restaurant.

Assisting Mrs. McCann with the event were Barbara Wyatt, Barbara Hodges, Valerie Evenden, Ollie Deer, Carolyn Koester, Betty Robertson and Marlene Petek.

Mrs. Sylvia Wright, president, introduced Mrs. Hazel Rollins as the new finance committee chairman. Streamers and balloons decorated the hall to create an atmosphere of an "old fashioned county fair" for the games and displays of home canned foods, arts and crafts, decorated cakes and original flower containers. During the social hour Mrs. Georgia Harlow assisted by Carolyn Koester auctioned many items which were entered in the various categories.

Steel firms recycling

By ROBERT D. MCKIBBEN

President
Granite City Steel Division
At Granite City Steel, we read with interest your July 19 editorial on recycling, especially aluminum recycling. One main fact that needs re-statement is that the steel industry, which was built on recycling, is in the forefront of efforts to turn the nation's rubbish into useful energy and steel and tin scrap.

As you know, most steelmaking processes depend on scrap as a major raw material. If it weren't for this scrap, the world would have long ago run out of iron ore from which to make steel.

Granite City Steel, we recycle scrap by using about 30 per cent scrap in our basic oxygen furnace (BOF) process, along with 70 per cent molten iron.

Last year, this process required about 430,000 tons of steel scrap at our plant alone. As a comparison, the 124 million pounds of aluminum recycled so far this year equals only 62,000 tons.

Beyond that normal re-use of steel, however, steel companies have been cooperating with power companies and others in finding ways of using the huge volumes of rubbish accumulated in this country. For example, the Union Electric Company of St. Louis have received wide publicity in pioneering the separation of ferrous scrap—ground up for use in steelmaking furnaces—into the burnable trash. The latter is used by UE in producing power, saving on coal supplies.

More than 38 cities around the nation have copied the St. Louis pattern, and many are even further along in putting their refuse to valuable use for power generation as well as for reclaiming recyclable steel in the form of discarded (steel) tin cans.

More than four billion cans are now being reclaimed annually, and it's expected that the number will be 12 billion a year by 1980.

With communities quickly using up all available sites for dumping rubbish, it's important that more work be done in recycling as many elements of that rubbish as possible.

Very little is left to be dumped after ferrous and burnable materials are removed.

Besides reclaiming scrap steel, the steel industry is testing techniques to collect steel plant dusts, fumes and oily wastes so they can be reused.

The dust is so fine it blows out of the furnace, but a new method collects the dust, heats it and compacts it into a solid so that it's not expelled from the furnace.

A high-density sludge process under investigation neutralizes acid mine waters from coal mines and also neutralizes acid mine waters from steel pickling operations.

Other steel companies are working on processes to recover steel from waste, such as coke oven gas, converting iron oxide fumes into a recyclable oxide pellet that can be recharged into BOF furnaces, and so on.

With the world focusing on recycling, you will find the steel industry continuing its traditional role as the world's number one recycler.

Pool rules take fun out of swimming

To the Editor:
Rules are needed to maintain order, but the rules at the Wilson Park pool are ridiculous, arbitrary and include provisions against just about everything except getting wet. You cannot splash water, jump or dive from the side of the pool or play tag. Each hour, everyone has to wait for the pool to be open for five to 10 minutes for only God and the park employees know what reason. No other pool I've ever been to follows this "safety" procedure.

You are also expected to rinse your suit in a community tub of foul-looking disinfectant. One girl about 11 years old of the lifeguards even though she could swim across the pool and was accompanied by an adult. Children are bombarded with so many rules that it seems a pity to subject them to unnecessary ones. I am all for water safety and believe every precaution should be taken against dangerous water activities. But our local pool has rules so stringent that it takes much of the enjoyment out of a day at the pool. I hope that whoever manages the park pool will take steps to ease up a little on the present regulations—and instruct the lifeguards to concentrate more on real potentially dangerous situations and less on kids who are doing no harm to anyone and just trying to have a good time. MRS. MARY JANE WASYLAK 2404 Terminal Ave.

Corps aid in local parade is cited

To the Editor:
American Legion Tri-City 113 was blessed with the opportunity to furnish a float in the big Bicentennial parade in Granite City on July 3, 1976. A float is not possible without a vehicle to carry it. The St. Louis District, Corps of Engineers, was generous enough to furnish a truck for that commendable dedication event. They have done a lot of work in this valley for us and we believe that they deserve to be commended. We also note their generosity to protect us during floods, a good example in 1973. We and the Legion auxiliary personally appreciate the Corps and Colonel Peterson. We urge praise for him upon his departure from this area. CHARLES HUTCHCOCK Commander American Legion Post 113

Detoxification centers necessary to avoid overburdening emergency care

To the Editor:
The Illinois Hospital Association pleaded when the state legislature acted on July 9 in special session to correct errors in amendments to the state's Alcoholism and Intoxication Act.

The intent of the law is to decriminalize alcoholism and divert alcoholics from police "drunk tanks" into special centers created for their detoxification and rehabilitation.

However, because of an oversight in the legislation, Illinois hospital emergency rooms were overwhelmed by a tremendous upsurge in the number of alcoholics.

This had a serious negative effect on the care available to other truly emergency patients and did little to meet the alcoholic's needs, since hospital emergency rooms are simply the wrong place in which to provide the very special attention required by these patients. The Hospital Association worked closely with legislative leaders to create a law that provides humane, effective care for alcoholics without altering the primary mission of hospital emergency facilities, which is to provide immediate, critical care to the seriously ill and injured.

Chicago hospitals were the first to report problems in their emergency rooms because of the increase in the number of alcoholic patients; however, the Illinois Hospital Association had reports of similar problems from throughout the state.

House Bill 3834, an amendment to the Alcoholism and Intoxication Act of 1974, clearly places responsibility for the treatment of alcoholics in detoxification centers recognized by the State Department of Mental Health. The bill was intended to be effective on July 1, coinciding with implementation of the Alcoholism Act. However, the bill passed the House and Senate without an effective date.

By provision of the Illinois Constitution, most bills without effective dates, when passed and signed by the governor, become effective on October 1. By acting this month to implement the suggested changes, which were strongly supported by the Illinois Hospital Association, the legislature created a system under which public inebriates may receive appropriate care in facilities specifically designed to meet the needs of their illness.

Some of the problems experienced by hospital emergency rooms will be alleviated; however, the success of the alcohol treatment program depends upon how quickly a sufficient number of detoxification centers can be created throughout Illinois. There are only 26 centers available for alcoholics in the entire state. Some areas are severely short of beds and there are no centers available in certain parts of the state.

Against plan to absolve draft dodgers

To the Editor:
The fact that James "Jimmy" Carter has in his platform proposed to forgive Vietnam deserters and draft dodgers and bring them back to this country is a theory that they have suffered enough mental anguish and financial difficulty—makes me ill.

What irony it is to compare deserters who failed to do their duty and ran, to the men who fought and died or were crippled. In addition, consider the anguish, hardships and misery dealt to the families of the honorable men who served. Every national veterans' organization is against this proposal to forgive Vietnam deserters and draft dodgers and bring them back to this country. It is a theory that they have suffered enough mental anguish and financial difficulty—makes me ill.

It is pathetic that a Presidential candidate would go on record to defend the actions of men who "played it safe" and ran while their fellow Americans fought and died. The forgiveness of deserters and draft dodgers is not negotiable. If it ever is, then instead of placing a single cross on the graves of veterans it would be better to place a "double cross." That would be what they had received.

Incidentally, it was brought to my attention that Carter was in the service. If so, I wonder if he ever saw combat, or remained here in the States where it was safe. I served overseas in World War II. STEVE KONKOVICH 2802 Dogwood Drive

Waggoner factor in parade's success

To the Editor:
There are, no doubt, many people who should be lauded for the particular success of our Bicentennial parade, but one person I know of who should be given special recognition is

Wilbur Waggoner of Waggoner Trucking Company. Mr. Waggoner donated the use of 13 trucks to the parade, the services and wages of drivers for these trucks, and the cost of additional liability insurance. We thank Mr. Waggoner, on behalf of all our people for his generosity. JIM KELAHAN President, Local 67 of the United Steelworkers Chairman, Parade Committee of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council

Building needed to protect animals

To the Editor:
I would like to inform the public of the predicament the Association for the Protection of Animals (APA) is in.

We have been located inside the Army Depot for four years. The Army has asked us to leave and was nice enough to give us 90 days.

We don't have a building to move into, so we have started a building fund. So far, we have had some wonderful citizens to donate to us and we appreciate their help very much. But we haven't received enough donations to even start dreaming of a building.

I feel it's a pity that an area the size we live in refuses to help an organization such as ours.

Animals are a large part of people's lives. Many of us have pets and, we love them dearly. Whatever it takes to make them happy and keep them healthy, we will do it.

But what about the dog that has been dumped by the side of an Interstate, standing there tail tucked between his legs, with lonely and fearful eyes?

Or the mother cat that has been dumped at a picnic area, hiding her starved body under a picnic table, trying to protect herself from the storm?

Are they any less an animal or have any less emotions than our pets that are rushed to veterinarians or taken to be groomed?

Where are the people's hearts? We need your help desperately. We have less than 60 days left at the Depot, no where to go and over 50 homeless animals in our care.

We are the only humane organization in this area. A city the size of Granite City should be proud to have a humane group in its area.

To realize how bad we are needed in Granite City you have to work with the APA.

It won't take you long to realize the cruelty done to our four-legged friends, and I understand that someone should be around to take care of them and give them love, vet care and a warm home where they will continue to be loved.

I would like for the public to know that the APA has been in existence six years. In all of this time, the APA workers have donated their time.

We, the members, have volunteered more than 1000 hours. We also volunteered our hearts. We work in fund raising and anything else that benefits our cause.

I plead with the people of Granite City to please help us to continue to help the unwanted animals in our area. Donations will go for a good cause. Building fund donations are sent to the APA Post Office Box 1311, Granite City.

Strong effort to achieve local voice in regional issues

We don't know how they find the time to do it, but many elected officials in the Quad-City area are devoting intensive effort to help assure that this community has as strong representation as possible on regional governmental bodies that have much power to help or harm the Quad-Cities.

With the election of Madison City Clerk John Belloff as the new vice-president of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, he will serve on the board of directors of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council along with Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk and Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler.

Sasyk serves on Gateway as president of the Southern Illinois Council of Mayors and Schuler as chairman of the Bi-State Development Agency. Hagnauer is chairman of the Gateway Council.

Both Chairman Schuler and Mayor Sasyk are members of the ten-member Bi-State Agency board, and they and Belloff and Hagnauer are members of the 26-member Southwestern Planning Commission board. There are 15 voting members on the Gateway Council board headed by Hagnauer.

Quad-Cityans sweep Miss Madison County Fair awards

Quad-Cityans long have been proud of the talent, beauty, poise, charm and gracefulness of the feminine half of the local community. Now, they have tangible evidence that such appreciation exists in a much wider area.

At the initial Miss Madison County Fair pageant, a former Miss Granite City, Melanie Asadorian, was crowned as queen of this year's county fair. Pamela Jean Tesler was chosen as the county's first runnerup. Anne Rowden was named second runnerup and Tami Lynn Eck was selected as third runnerup and as Miss Congeniality.

All reside in the Quad-Cities—Misses Asadorian, Tesler and Rowden in Granite City and Miss Eck in Venice. Nineteen residents of Madison County competed.

Doctoral degree accreditation earned by local university

Accreditation at the doctoral degree level is a major step forward for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools also has accredited SIUE at the professional degree level for its doctor of dental medicine program.

Carter called folk hero, able organizer, skilled on issues

Comments by British newspapers: THE DAILY MAIL — Whether he wins or loses in November — and at the moment he is the odds-on favorite to become America's president — the significance of the Democratic Party's nomination of Jimmy Carter is immense.

First, the very act of his selection acknowledges that the South, after 110 years, is at last fully accepted as an equal part of the Union. Secondly, the nomination showed that machine politicians can be beaten, broken and even "reborn." It was a remarkable sight to see those once fearsome men, their faces dazed by some beatific incomprehension, lining up to follow Mr. Carter like sinners struck by a blinding light on the road to Washington. Of course, sinners can revert to type.

But for the moment, Mr. Carter is a true folk hero who has defeated the dreary and devious party hacks who have dominated politics for too long.

THE GUARDIAN — Carter's lack of vision is worrying. Ambition by itself is not enough.

For a man to be so dedicated and determined to win power while having no clear conception of what to do when this is achieved is disturbing. No one is against truth and trust in government, but you need more than this to be a good president.

THE TIMES — So far, much of Mr. Carter's support has come to him for reasons that have little to do with whether or not he would make a good president.

Voters turned to him in the primaries because he was an exciting new outsider challenging the Washington establishment. None of this support has been very broad or deep. There are still many doubters and critics even in the Democratic Party. That said, it has to be admitted that anyone who has climbed so high so quickly must be taken very seriously. He has shown himself to be a superb organizer with steady determination and plentiful energy.

He has also been skillful in identifying the issues which most concern people and harnessing them to his own purpose. Whether this is the result of instinct or good staff work, it remains as valuable a quality in a president as in a candidate.

Nameoki studies work bids

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors Monday night opened bids for roofing the town garage, for asphaltting the parking lot and for supplying gasoline for the highway department.

Five bids for roofing work and two bids for asphaltting a portion of the town hall parking lot were tabled by the board for study. The auditors met after the regular meeting to discuss the bids, but no decision is to be reached until the next board meeting Aug. 9.

Two bids to supply gasoline were referred to the highway commissioner for a selection. Louis Whitell, Nameoki Township supervisor, was unable to attend the meeting, but left a note informing the board that a court order has been rendered ordering the owners of a burned house on Vine Street to demolish the house. The township has been seeking such an order for more than one year.

The board reported that C. D. Peters Construction Co. expects to complete plans and specifications next week for surface improvements in the Dobrey Slough area. If the plans are approved by the board Aug. 9, the specification will be released for bidding on the work.

The auditors heard a complaint of a construction company operating out of a home on Dawn Avenue in a residential district. They decided to refer the complaint to the county zoning department.

Summer brood of webworms due

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Area Adviser in Ornamental Horticulture

The summer brood of sod webworms will soon be under way to produce an annual threat to crabgrass and bluegrass. The second-generation of moths are present in your grass or hiding in nearby shrubbery. A brief stroll through the lush areas of your lawn will chase up several buff-colored moths that fit a short distance. When you can disturb several with each step, you have a good idea whether lawn webworm will be a threat.

Within the next week or so, these buff-colored moths will scatter eggs over the lush areas of your turf and the last lawn webworm cycle will be under way. Observations so far indicate the first generation during June and July were not as plentiful as last year. But you can be an exception. You should make your own survey, the casual stroll, to size up the situation and decide whether to treat. Occasional rains and a light population of worms are good reasons not to treat. Patches of brown grass in your lawn are suspicious. If the patches seem like small bunches of clippings and reveal areas clipped-off at the ground, it's webworms. When these brown clumps are dead grass plants that is a turf disease. For control of sod webworms, apply a spray or granules of any of the following insecticides: carbaryl (Sevin), diazinon (Spectracide), chlorpyrifos (Dursban), or Aspon. Follow the directions on the label as to the amount to use. When applying a spray, use about 3 gallons of water for each 1,000 square feet of lawn area. Do not water the lawn for at least three days after treatment.

Girl rescued after fall from bridge into river

A 16-year-old Bel-Ridge, Mo., girl was rescued after falling about 150 feet into the Mississippi River from the Chain of Rocks Bridge about 2:30 a.m. Wednesday. She was in the water more than one hour.

Shelly Povis said she was walking across the bridge when she tripped over something and fell into the water. Although she was seriously injured, she managed to swim to the St. Louis water pumping station in the middle of the river near the bridge and held onto a metal pipe.

Witnesses who saw her fall called St. Louis police and the Coast Guard to rescue her. A National Marine Co. tow boat was the first boat to reach the scene, but was unable to reach the pumping station due to the low water and the current.

The tow boat remained on the scene until morning lighting for other rescue operations. The Alton Volunteer Emergency Corps finally reached the girl at 3:35 a.m. Wednesday in a small boat and took her to a waiting Coast Guard boat.

She was brought at 4:10 a.m. Wednesday to St. Elizabeth Hospital and later was transferred to Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

She suffered pain to her lower back, numbness to her left leg, multiple contusions, bruises on her back and at a possible spinal sprain. X-rays were taken here before she was transferred.

Lester Buesking, 53, dies

Lester E. Buesking, 53, of Rural Route 4, died at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Belleville, where he had been a patient for one week.

He owned and operated his own trucking equipment for 16 years through the M. C. Slater Trucking Co., Mitchell, before he retired a year ago.

Mr. Buesking was a member of St. Cecilia's Catholic Church, Glen Carbon, and also belonged to Moose Lodge 1561 of Edwardsville, American Legion Post 435 of Glen Carbon and was an honorary member of the Treasurers Local 525 of Alton.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Gladys Buesking; his mother, Mrs. Emma Buesking; a brother Vernon Buesking and sister, Mrs. Tony (LaVerne) Rane, all of Edwardsville. Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Friday at St. Cecilia's church from an Edwardsville funeral home. Burial will be in Buck Road Cemetery, Edwardsville.

J. L. Montgomery, 23, dies

Jerry L. Montgomery, 23, of 1810 Levell St., Caseyville, formerly of Granite City, died at 7:45 p.m. Monday at Belleville Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for a week.

Assault charge in disturbance

Sidney Joe Wallace, 21, of 2117 Amos Ave., was charged with assault following a disturbance on Highway 162 at Eduardo Drive Monday.

A Madison County sheriff's deputy said he was enroute to another fight at a Pontoon Beach tavern to assist village officials when he noticed a crowd of about 30 to 40 people along the highway.

He noticed two men fighting in the middle of the crowd and got between the men to halt the fight. It was alleged that while the deputy was talking to the men, one of them pushed his way past the deputy and assaulted an employee of Groucho's Lounge.

The deputy had to use his night stick to stop the man, he reported.

Wallace was arrested at the scene and was taken for hospital treatment. Enroute to the hospital, Wallace said he had been cut with a knife during the fight, the deputy related.

Wallace was treated for a cut above his right eye and a nose injury and was released to the deputy, who took him to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

North students on trip to Mexico

Two GCHS North students are participating in a 10-day cultural exchange program in Mexico as a result of their being cited by the school's Spanish Club as outstanding participants in club fund-raising activities during the last school year.

Sheila Hintz, club vice-president, and Rhonda Ketcher, a club officer, left St. Louis Saturday on a flight to Mexico, chaperoned by a group of St. Louis Area language instructors. For their efforts in club projects, each student was sponsored by the club for half of the necessary expenses.

GC man charged

Russell E. Jones, 31, of the 2200 block of Benton St., was charged with aggravated battery and was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after allegedly scuffling with a Granite City policeman in the 2200 block of Benton Street at 10:20 p.m. Monday.

Sergeant Gerald Pinkerton was called to check on a man lying in the front seat of an auto. He said he tried to wake the man and when the man stood up, he struck Pinkerton's jaw with a fist.

Pinkerton said force was necessary to defend himself and he struck the man with a flashlight. Jones was taken to the Granite City Jail and then was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted with a two and one-half inch cut to his right forehead. He was taken to surgery Tuesday.

Area men win in antique car show

Quad-City entries in the third annual antique car show, held this week at Highland during the Madison County Fair, placed in four of nine different categories, with Gerald Purcell of Madison and Neal Wells of Granite City taking home first-place awards.

Purcell's 1931 Lincoln took top honors in the classic auto category, and Wells' 1929 Ford won the Model A class.

Second place in the special interest category for 1960-65 went to a 1960 Chevrolet owned by Granite Cityman Kenny Gresham, and a third place plaque was presented to Granite Cityman Morris McGee for his 1957 Ford entry in the special interest category for 1955-60 automobiles.

Capturing overall honors — best of show vehicle and first place in commercial class up to 1950 — was a 1927 Hug Roadbuilder owned by Bill Ferris of St. Louis.

One of only 451 trucks built that year, the Hug was manufactured by C. J. Hug in a machine shop in Highland. Hug produced 4,013 of the vehicles between 1922 and 1942. One of the trucks was utilized in construction of a road built from Troy to Pocahontas.

Fair week continues today with an arts and crafts exhibition from 2 to 8 p.m., and motorcycle races in the arena at 7 p.m. From 7 to 7:30 p.m. and from 8:30 p.m. to midnight today, the Don Sherrer Banjo Band will perform at the pavilion in Lindendale Park. A 4-H Club dress revue is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. today.

The Madison County Fair concludes tomorrow with 4-H Club horse and pony premium judging at 8:30 a.m., followed at 1 p.m. with an all-youth western horse show, a musical extravaganza at 7:30 p.m., and dancing to the music of Dale's Moonlight Ryders from eight to midnight at the pavilion.

School legislation backed; new pact with Supt. Cronin

The State Board of Education at its late-July meeting expressed disappointment with the overall level of funding, especially in regard to adult education and gifted programs. However, the board was pleased with Gov. Daniel Walker's action to follow board priorities for such items as special education and bilingual education.

The board voted to send a letter to Gov. Walker urging his approval of seven bills awaiting his signature. Senate Bill 1523 extends, until 1977, a freeze on 1974 assessments for counties that assessed property above one-third of the true market value. Senate Bills 1524 and 1526 provide compensation for school districts such as Rockford that, in 1973, assessed property at that rate or above.

The board also requested the governor's signature on Senate Bills 1643, 1721, 1727 and 1750. SB 1643 increases the indebtedness limit for special charter districts, bringing them up to the same level as other districts.

SB 1721 delays for two years, until 1978, the mandated deadline for all school buses to be equipped with an eight-lamp flashing signal system. Presently, school buses are equipped with a four-lamp system.

SB 1727 deals with the organization of school districts and SB 1750 authorizes funds for construction of road bridges to assure safe transportation of pupils, considered a severe problem in 14 rural counties. At its meeting, the state board also adopted the Standards and Criteria for Institutional Recognition and Program Approval for teacher education institutions.

In a statement of policy, the board resolved to encourage construction of road bridges to voluntarily delete programs which do not meet standards and for which student or employer demand has decreased. The members also agreed to support cooperative arrangements with other colleges to allow students access to a full range of courses in the arts and sciences, as well as professional education.

In other business, four persons were appointed to fill vacancies on the State Teacher Certification Board. The 13-member board acts as an advisory body to the state superintendent of education.

Appointed were: Maria Valdes, a specialist in bilingual-bicultural education at the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle; Marty W. Babel, a teacher in St. Charles Community School District 303; Reg Weaver, a teacher in Harvey School District 152; and Leslie E. Purdy, superintendent of East Richland Community Unit School District, Olney.

Following a long period of evaluation, the board also acted to issue a new contract to State Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin.

Dr. Cronin's present contract, which expires in January 1977, was rescinded and a new contract approved beginning Aug. 1, 1976, to run through July 31, 1979.

The superintendent will receive compensation similar to that voted earlier for the Illinois Board of Higher Education director — $53,000 per year.

The next meeting will be held Sept. 9 at the Illinois Office of Education, 100 N. 1st St., Springfield.

Madison budget cut $306,498

The Madison City Council adopted a new budget of $110,357 for the 1976-77 fiscal year at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The new budget is a reduction of $306,498 below the 1975-76 appropriation.

The 33 fulltime city employees received a 6 per cent raise which will range from approximately $55 to $65 per month.

A new budget item provides $15,000 for an alarm services fund to cover the cost of burglar alarm installation and maintenance for senior citizens.

Funds for the burglar alarm project are made available from rent paid by the nearly 100 business places that already have a burglar alarm system.

The city will make no charge or a very small charge, for senior citizen burglar alarms.

Installation is scheduled to begin next week.

The largest departmental reduction was $90,385 cut from the Police Department whose budget for 1976-77 is set at $252,248. A total of $81,027 of the police reduction came from elimination of budgeted salaries for personnel that was not hired during the 1975-76 fiscal year.

For auxiliary police officers were reduced from $7,000 to $2,000, and for a civilian desk clerk was reduced by $11,640 from $19,000 to $6,360. Only one desk clerk is actually on the city payroll. Others are paid through the Manpower program.

The budget allows $8,000 for the purchase of police automobiles.

Mayor Mike Sasysk has said he intends to hire no further police officers due to the city's financial problems. However, the mayor feels the increased use of burglar alarms will help reduce some of the need by reducing the number of

The overall Street and Alley Department budget has been reduced by $64,474 from $189,198 to $124,724. This reduction is reflected in the elimination from last year's budget of $65,000 for land acquisition and $25,000 for street materials such as asphalt, oil stone, sand and cement.

The city has purchased additional land on Third Street to make more room for equipment used by the department, and the blacktopping of all city streets has been completed.

The Refuse Department was cut by $57,061 from $137,787 to $80,726. Major reduction in the budget resulted from reduction of equipment purchases by $20,000 and a $10,000 reduction in the laborer hourly and overtime salary amount.

Other departments budgeted and the decrease from last year are: fire department $50,912, down $17,181; executive department $38,936, down $1,595; legislative department $27,200, down $3,400; city clerk's department $5,630, down $100; legal department $14,180, down $3,375; health and humane department $6,600, down $1,980; sewer department $12,804, down $20,909 with elimination of $18,000 for equipment; municipal building department $13,859, down $7,335; building department $8,770, down $12,750.

Deep Illinois mining urged to help preserve farmland

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Coal and corn are in conflict in Illinois and the very land that produces the state's rich harvest may be lost forever, says a non-profit energy research organization.

Strip mines are gobbling up 5,000 to 6,000 acres of farmland annually with no end in sight—and no assurance the lands can ever be restored to full production—the Environmental Policy Institute (EPI) warned in late July in a report called "Strip Mining in the Corn Belt."

The report by John C. Doyle Jr. also contends that the Illinois strip mine law both directly and indirectly "encourages" the loss of farmland.

If present practices continue, says the EPI report, as much as two million to three million acres in 51 counties may be affected by strip mining.

The salvation of irreplaceable agricultural land lies in deep mining, the report concludes.

"So long as there are deep-minable coal reserves in the quantities found in Illinois, there is no need to gamble away long-term productive agricultural capacity for short-term strip mining economies," the report maintains.

EPI argues further that there is no shortage of deep coal.

"There is more deep-minable coal in four Illinois counties—Jefferson, Macoupin, Montgomery and Sangamon (22.3 billion tons)—than there is stripable coal in the entire state (19.5 billion tons).

"In fact," the paper continues, "there is more deep-minable coal in Illinois than there is stripable coal in the entire nation."

Drawing on data from the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and University of Illinois soil scientists, the report finds that "much of the agricultural land in Illinois which is underlain with stripable coal reserves is very good indeed, if not exceptional, and could be protected as one of the nation's most valuable resources."

Faustling the Illinois strip mine law as ineffectual in saving this land, the report says the law has no provision for designating productive agricultural land for strip mining.

The report says the law "actually encourages" loss of farmland through variance procedures and allowances for less-productive restoration, that is, from crop land to pasture use.

"The problem with the Illinois Mined Land Conservation and Reclamation Act and Rule 1104 (lands to be reclaimed for row crop agriculture) is that nowhere in the law or the regulations are either pre-mining agricultural productivity or pre-mining agricultural yields even so much as mentioned," the report asserts.

In one of its major findings, the report says that if current coal operator practices permitted by the Illinois strip mine law and Rule 1104 are followed, farmlands targeted for strip mining will suffer a 30 per cent loss to haulage roads and water-impoundment cuts. The loss could go up to 50 per cent through downgrading high-yield acreage to less productive pasture reclamations.

"There are serious questions as to whether high-capability agricultural lands stripped for coal can be returned to their original capacities within an acceptable period of time," says the report.

"The question in this instance is not whether agricultural lands can be reclaimed, but rather whether they can be restored to their full productive capacity."

The report says it can be expected that the process of reconstructing agricultural soils after strip mining will take something on the order of 10 to 30 years.

And even then there will be no guarantee that the full agricultural capability of any restored lands will equal their pre-mining levels of productivity, it contends.

"Illinois leads the nation with 8.2 per cent of all agricultural export shares for all agricultural commodities," the report notes.

"As of 1975, Illinois accounted for 15 per cent of the nation's export shares for feed grains and feed products, ranking second in the nation. If extrapolated to 1980, the report estimates that Illinois will account for 16 per cent of the Team campaign by state's five Democratic nominees

Michael J. Howlett, democratic nominee for governor, on Tuesday outlined a new structure for the campaign he predicts will carry his party's state ticket to victory No. 2.

Howlett addressed the Taft Institute, a gathering of high school political science teachers from all over Illinois, in the Morris Library basement auditorium of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

"We will have a team effort," Howlett said. "Neil Hartigan, candidate for lieutenant governor; Alan Dixon, for secretary of state; Cecil Parlee, for attorney general; Michael Bakalis, for comptroller, and I will work together in a single coordinated campaign, not five separate campaigns.

"For organization purposes, we have divided the state into ten regions, each to have its own headquarters, staff and campaign director but all to be coordinated by my staff, manager of the statewide campaign.

"For the first time, we will have central scheduling of candidates' appearances. Ray Buss of Carbondale will coordinate individuals responsible for scheduling of each of the five candidates.

"Central scheduling will avoid duplication and assure that all counties and areas of Illinois will be visited by a major candidate who can speak for all of us on the issues.

"All five candidates will attend a series of public hearings, beginning Aug. 2, to hear the views of Illinois citizens on state government issues and priorities—another first for an Illinois state campaign.

"The first hearing, in Peoria, will focus on the problem of financing and managing state government. The next day, in Rockford, we will hear about jobs and the Illinois economy.

"What we learn will be used to formulate our positions and to help the Democratic Party develop a state platform.

"The day's work at each hearing will include a press conference, formal opening of the regional headquarters and a meeting in the evening of precinct committeemen.

"Headquarters of the 10 regions will be in Chicago,

Rockford, Rock Island, Peoria, Quincy, Springfield, Campaign, Quincy, Springfield, Campaign, Quincy, Springfield, Campaign.

"The human services hearing in Carbondale will be in the student center from 11 a.m. to noon and again from 3 to 4 p.m. The state candidates will rotate in turn as moderator for each regional hearing.

"Our state government administers hundreds of federal and state programs for citizens of all ages. Among them are public aid, mental health, children and family services and programs for the handicapped, the retarded and the aged.

"Every activity of state human services will be open for discussion. Nutrition, transportation and housing are a few.

"In our campaign, we will invite every corner of Illinois to listen as well as to speak. We invite the public to attend our hearings and to participate.

"It will be a new kind of state campaign. With ideas and suggestions invited from all the people of Illinois, we will create a new chance for excellence in state government—more and better service with efficiency, economy and no increase in taxpayers' burden.

"At the same time, we will be coordinating our state campaign with the campaign of Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale for President and Vice President of the United States. They plan to campaign in Illinois for our state ticket, and we will campaign for the national ticket.

"Just as regional problems, such as unemployment, transportation and welfare, are part of a general state pattern in Illinois, so are Illinois problems a part of the United States' pattern. With unity and cooperation, we will find the solutions."

County Demos plan events for fair day

Thursday, Aug. 19, has been designated by the state of Illinois as Democrat Day in Springfield, which again will be in conjunction with the Illinois State Fair.

The Madison County County Democratic Central Committee has announced that it will open its annual hospitality room again at the Forum 30 Hotel-Motel in downtown Springfield at 717 East Adams St., beginning at 4 p.m. with music and light refreshments.

Confirmation of attendance already has been received from most of the Democratic state officials and candidates together with assured participation by local and county officials from all over the state.

The Madison County organization has sponsored this affair for a number of years, always to a full house and with the opportunity for everyone to meet and talk to office holders and candidates.

This event has progressed to the point where it is now accepted as one of the largest downtown gatherings of Democrats now being held in the state of Illinois. Efforts are now being made to persuade the democratic candidate for president to attend this affair, according to Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the County Democratic Committee.

Tickets may be obtained from any county chairman or from the secretary-treasurer of the Madison County Democratic Committee, 1508 Johnson Road, Granite City, Ill., at the rate of $5 each, Hagnauer said.

Trailriders annual money show Saturday

The Trailriders Saddle Club will hold its annual money horse show starting at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the club's arena on the levee just north of Rock Road and east of Route 151.

The show will include 13 judging events with prizes totaling $1,290. A concession stand will be operated and the public has been invited to attend the event.

Admission is $1 per person with children under 12 admitted free with an adult. A spokesman for the group said the money show is the largest event Trailriders presents each year and noted the riders have been preparing their horses all year for Saturday's show.

At the club's last show Saturday night, July 17, contestants found competition stiff as points mount up with the realization of only two more shows to go before the final tally.

FOR BIDS

BIDS WILL BE ACCEPTED on or before 7:30 P.M. on August 24, 1976, at the Office of the City Clerk of the City of Madison, Illinois, in the City Hall of Madison, Illinois, to be opened at the next regularly held meeting of the Madison County Council for the following pieces of property located in Madison, Illinois:

Tax review, government coordination recommended

The Regional Job Development Committee, appointed by Republican gubernatorial candidate James R. Thompson identified four major areas of concern at its initial meeting. It was announced this week.

The committee was appointed by Thompson to help him formulate a plan to improve business and labor conditions in 10 regions that encompass the entire state.

The East St. Louis regional committee includes the counties of Effingham, Fayette, Bond, Madison, St. Clair, Clinton, Washington, Monroe and Randolph. Members of the committee represent business, banking, labor, farming, education and government. No Quad-City area was appointed. The priority areas the committee decided to concentrate its study on are: (1) vocational job training, (2) business taxes, (3) environmental protection management and regulation and (4) cooperative planning among the state and/or local governments.

Camille Dabney, a committee member from East St. Louis, expressed frustration over vocational training programs that "train or re-train people for jobs that don't exist within the student's community."

Paul Saugel, a farmer and the mayor of Sauget, discussed problems encountered with the state Environmental Protection Agency that result from "conflicting, contradictory and confusing answers and directions from separate offices of the agency."

He said Missouri's environmental protection regulations are much less stringent than Illinois' and urged greater interstate cooperation in the bi-state area to insure that Illinois firms are not lured to Missouri because of Illinois' higher standards.

Several members, including Keith Walker of Effingham and John Palek of Vandalia, urged review of the latest business pay in order to consider "innovative solutions to creating a business climate that will attract, not repel, firms from locating in Illinois or from continuing or expanding their operations here."

Committee members felt that job and economic development planning within communities could be greatly improved by better cooperation and coordination between and among local governments and state agencies, such as the Department of Business and Economic Development, the Environmental Protection Agency and the Department of Local Government Affairs.

The committee is being assisted in its research by Alan Pulsipher, a professor of economics at Southern Illinois University.

Prior to the meeting, Thompson announced the appointment of two additional committee members, John Walker of Moro and Dr. Carl Lossau of Edwardsville.

Walker is manager of personnel services at Laclede Steel Co., Alton. He is a member of the legislative committee of the Alton-Wood River Chamber of Commerce and the Southwestern Industrial Association. He served on Governor Richard B. Ogilvie's Citizens Advisory Committee on the Prison System.

'Balcony' drama on Aug. 6-14

The theater and dance department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will conclude its summer season with "The Balcony," a controversial drama by Jean Genet. The student production will open Aug. 6 in the Communications Building theater at 8:15 p.m.

Additional performances will be given Aug. 7, 12, 13 and 14 at 8:15 p.m. An afternoon performance will be presented at 2:30 on Aug. 8.

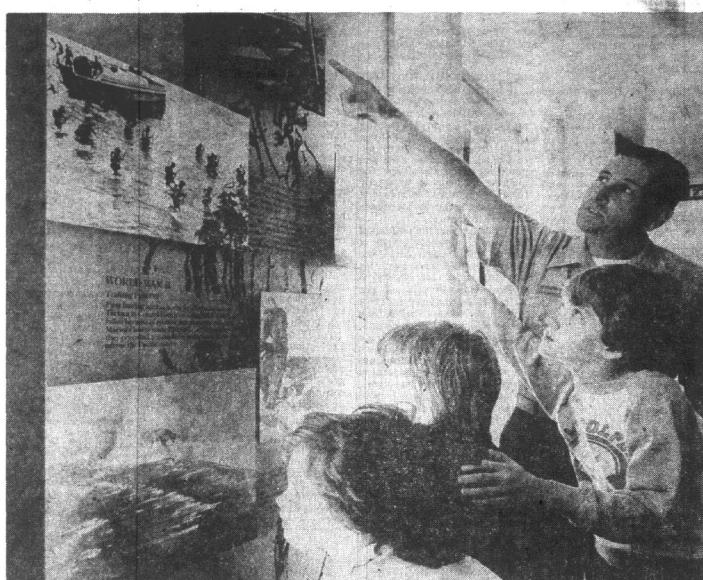

The play, banned in Paris when it first premiered in the early 1950s, still manages to create controversy wherever and whenever it is performed because of its subject matter.

The play deals with illusions and fantasy, vice and virtue. It explores man's desire for fantasy and then shows the paradox that can occur when he is given the option to change the fantasy into reality.

The SIUE production has been produced with emphasis on the grotesque and bizarre visual imagery of the fantasy world in which the characters exist.

Mark Killam, a graduate student majoring in theater and dance, will direct the play.

Reservations for any of the performances and other ticket information may be obtained from the SIUE theater and dance department at 692-2775.

"IT HAPPENED LIKE THIS," Marine Gunnery Sergeant George Benter explains an historical exhibit to some young visitors in the Marine Corps Bicentennial van. Part of the Armed Forces Bicentennial Caravan, the Marine van depicts the history and contributions of the

U. S. Army base hosts GC Explorers

It was much to the surprise of military police when a group of Quad-City Explorers—most of them girls—appeared shortly before midnight Thursday at the gates of Fort Sheridan, a U. S. Army base and a male sanctuary that never before housed women visitors, according to Granite City Police Officer Glenn Wright who accompanied the group to Chicago.

The occasion was a visit to Chicago by members of Explorer Post 9 (girls) sponsored by St. Elizabeth Hospital, and Explorer Post 10-33 (boys), sponsored by the Granite City Police Department.

Arrangements had been made for the group to stay overnight at the Army base.

"We were assigned two World War II barracks with double-deck bunks," Wright related. "The barracks were clean, but definitely not plush. It was agreed unanimously that neither the Post 9 girls nor Post 10-33 boys had any desire to live very long in the barracks," Wright added.

After visiting a military museum at the fort, which formerly was a military prison, the Explorers left for Itasca, Ill., where they registered Friday morning at the Holiday Inn.

Post Nine members toured The Little Company of Mary Hospital, where they were welcomed by Sister Michael, the administrator of the School of Nursing. The Explorers viewed the pediatric department and nursery. The hospital tour ended with the girls being served cookies and soda by the hospital staff.

Police Post 10-33 spent Friday afternoon at the Cook County Criminal Court where Ralph Axelrod, administrative assistant to the Cook County Sheriff, took them on a tour of the courts.

Everyone entering the building did so through a metal detector manned by sheriff's police. Prisoners from the Cook County jail which houses 3,900 inmates are brought to the court through a tunnel from the jail located directly behind the courts building, the Explorers learned.

Highlights for the Police Explorers came during a court session while listening to the testimony and cross-examination of a Chicago homicide detective in a murder trial.

On Saturday, the two groups joined in visiting the Museum of Science and Industry and other Chicago area points of interest.

On Sunday the Nursing Explorers went shopping at Woodfield Mall, the world's largest indoor shopping center consisting of four levels.

The Police Explorers spent Sunday taking a walking tour of downtown Chicago, finishing up with a swim in Lake Michigan.

Moss shuffles Pontoon committee appointments

Pontoon Beach Village Board President Floyd David Moss has announced his committee appointments for this fiscal year and has recommended that Trustee Loren Madison replace Trustee Raymond Gaudette Jr. as mayor pro-tem. Village ordinances do not call for board confirmation of the committee appointments, but the board is expected to discuss the mayor pro-tem recommendation at its next regular meeting Aug. 12.

One trustee commented it has been normal courtesy in the past for the village board president to bring his proposed committee appointments before the board before making them official.

The new appointments also remove Gaudette as chairman of the police committee, moving Madison to the chairmanship, but leaving Gaudette a committee member. Trustee Don C. Rea was dropped from that three-member committee and Keith Biggs was named to replace him.

Biggs is to chair the ordinance committee with Madison and Bennett as committee members. Madison also is to head the finance committee with Biggs and Rea as members.

Paul Bennett was named chairman of the roads committee where he will serve with Gaudette and Rea. Gaudette is chairman of the health committee with Duane Skinner and Bennett.

Don Rea heads the parks and recreation committee, which also includes Bennett and Gaudette.

The appointments were effective when announced, with the exception of the mayor pro-tem appointment, which some board members feel must be confirmed by the board, according to state law.

In other action, the board has tabled action on several bids received from persons wishing to sell used dump trucks. It was decided to advertise for bids on a new dump truck in order to compare the prices and determine whether a new or used truck should be purchased. Moss commented later that the money for a new dump truck is not in the budget, but said he will wait to see if the board members will have a proposal how to pay for the truck, if they decide to purchase a new truck.
